15 DEAD, 45 TRAPPED IN GERMAN MINE BLAST

BERLIN (UPI) — An explosion in an East German coal mine today killed at least 15 miners and trapped 45 others deep below ground. The explosion occurred at Zwickau, when 100 miners were in the shaft during a change in shifts. Forty men were rescued and 15 bodies were recovered.

CITY HALL GOES PICTURE SHY

Guess who? Four City Hall employees — their faces blacked out to protect them — are shown examining the bust of Queen Elizabeth today after it was returned to its temporary resting place in the lobby. City Hall was gripped in a cloak and dagger atmosphere as bust was moved, minutes later, into the city clerk's private office where it can be kept under lock and key; and Ald. M. H. Mooney, parks chairman, issued a stern directive to department heads forbidding employees to allow pictures or "undue" discussion of the statue. Alderman attacked "childish" prank and subsequent publicity.

IT'S BACK BUT NO ARRESTS 'Crash Program' To Install Bust

By JOHN MIKA

A "crash program" to erect the bust of Queen Elizabeth in Beacon Hill Park was ordered today after the concrete statue was returned to City Hall.

The 750-pound work by sculptress Peggy Walton Packard was found about 2.30 a.m. Sunday outside the replica of Anne Hathaway's cottage on the grounds of the Olde England Inn in Esquimalt.

NO ARRESTS

Police and City Hall officials said there were no arrests scheduled.

Police Chief John Blackstock would not confirm reports that police knew who had spirited away the bust from the City Hall lobby Thursday night.

But there was apparent agreement on all sides that it was a college prank.

A telephone tip to a radio station Saturday night said the statue would be left in Beacon Hill Park at 1 a.m. It finally was found after four youths visited a newspaper office to give its actual location.

Special measures were taken at City Hall to prevent a second disappearance and further publicity by ringing down a curtain of silence around the bust.

NO PICTURES

In an unusual step, parks chairman Ald. M. H. Mooney issued a verbal directive to the City Hall staff to ban pictures being taken of the bust or discuss the disappearance with reporters.

The statue also was shunted into the closed private office of city clerk Frank Hunter a few minutes after it was set up in the City Hall lobby on the spot from which it was swiped.

Workers will begin construction of a landscaped setting for the statue this week in Beacon Hill Park on the slope opposite the Burns' statue. The bust probably will be in place within a fortnight.

The site will consist of a 25-foot low wall, with stone facing, shaped in an arc around the statue. A landscaped floral setting will back it up.

When the statue is erected, it will end months of delay which resulted in debate within intermunicipal committee, city council and parks committee over cost and location.

But Acting Mayor Arthur Dowell described the final episode leading to action as a "college prank which developed into an unhappy mockery of our Queen."

"I'm surprised that students of higher learning should resort to such tactics."

Then, in an after-thought typical of all comments on the incident, he added: "If it was the university students, that is."

He said the incident would be discussed at the next police commission meeting.

Ald. Mooney, who was acting mayor during the bust's disappearance, commented: "I'm glad it's back. I believe it was a prank by people unknown. But it's all over now."

Similar sentiments were expressed by University of Victoria vice-principal Robert Wallace and student council president Marilyn Ardley.

COL. VICTOR SPENCER

'ROMANTIC, SPECTACULAR CITIZEN'

VANCOUVER (CP)—Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross said today British Columbia lost a "romantic, spectacular and most distinguished citizen" in the death of Victor Spencer.

In a telephone interview from Pasadena, Calif., where he was holidaying with Col. Spencer, Mr. Ross said he could not discuss the matter because he felt the death very deeply.

SON OF PIONEER

Colonel Spencer Dies on Holiday

VANCOUVER (CP)—Col. Victor Spencer, 77, son of a pioneer merchandising family and prominent cattle and businessman, died Sunday while holidaying in United States.

He died in his sleep at a Pasadena, Calif., hotel. His daughter, Barbara, and Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross of British Columbia, a long and intimate companion, were with him at his death.

Col. Spencer and his daughter travelled to Pasadena one week ago and were joined Saturday by Mr. Ross.

Born in Victoria in 1882, Col. Spencer was the fifth son of Mr. and Mrs. David Spencer, pioneer merchants. He spent his boyhood there, but before he was 18 enlisted as a trooper with a Canadian army company.

During the First World War he fought in major campaigns in Europe and rose to rank of lieutenant-colonel. On his return he worked his way to executive positions.

Countess Mountbatten To Be Buried at Sea

LONDON (AP)—Countess Mountbatten of Burma, aunt by marriage of the Queen, will be buried at sea Thursday, Buckingham Palace announced tonight (see Page 5).

Friends said the countess expressed a wish for sea burial as a tribute to her husband and, especially, his wartime heroism as commander of a destroyer.

Rockets To Planets Next---Nik

SURABAYA, Indonesia (Reuters)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today that powerful new rockets tested recently by Russia will be used for flights to the planets and for launching a heavy earth satellite.

Khrushchev, on a 12-day visit to Indonesia, told a welcoming rally here that the tests of the new rockets, carried out late in January in the Pacific, had produced "good results."

Soldiers with leveled bayonets drove back a wildly cheering crowd of 20,000 workers and youths as they surged forward and nearly broke down a wire fence between them and the rostrum from which Khrushchev spoke.

He described the rockets as "tremendous" and said they "will be used for flights to planets and for launching a heavy sputnik."

Khrushchev said Russia was nearing the day when it would get "complete facts about the moon, Mars, Venus and other planets of our solar system."

OVERTAKING U.S.

He also told a mass rally in this strongly Communist dockyard city that Russia would overtake the United States in industrial and agricultural production by 1965.

Khrushchev, making his last major speech before beginning three days of quiet talks with Indonesian leaders, told a rally in the sports stadium here that reforms are needed if Indonesia wants to attain economic freedom.

"To perpetuate the political freedom already achieved, it is necessary to achieve economic freedom, mainly by conducting firm retooling in society, because colonialism is not only political slavery but also present in the economic and social fields."

MUST END COLONIALISM

"Rooting out colonialism in the economic field and promoting the economy, paying attention to national interests, is a very heavy and vital task, but its settlement cannot be delayed," Khrushchev said. "This task is being faced by Indonesia, now and by other former colonial countries."

"With open heart the Soviet Union is prepared to give aid to Eastern countries—not only political and moral aid but also material support which has grown year by year."

LIKE MARATHON

Khrushchev said Russia's economic competition with the U.S. could "now apparently be described as a marathon."

"We have to pursue the United States... because the United States started earlier. But the style in which the United States runs has made its breathing very difficult."

DOOMED ATOM TOWN PRAYS

ELLIOTT LAKE, Ont. (CP)—Congregations at 10 churches in this Northern Ontario mining centre heard special prayers Sunday concerning the area's plight arising from the proposed closing of four of the six uranium mines in the district. About 4,000 of the 4,800 miners are to lose their jobs within 18 months.

Some clergymen mentioned the federal government's plan to build a second nuclear research centre in Manitoba and asked it be located here to help solve the unemployment problem.

Rev. Howard Staples of Elliott Lake Baptist Church prayed for God "to bring influence to bear on those in high places to locate the research centre here."

MIXED WELCOME AT FIRST IKE STOP

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UPI) — Rival factions shouting "We Like Ike" and others demanding Puerto Rican independence greeted President Eisenhower today on the safe completion of the first leg of his 15,000-mile Latin American tour.

A strong police guard separated the rival demonstrators and kept them four to five hundred feet distant from the landing strip at San Juan airport.

In his remarks here, the president cited Puerto Rico as an outstanding example of the benefits to be gained in co-operation with the United States.

Might of U.S. Indestructible Safeguard---Ike

WASHINGTON (CP) — President Eisenhower described United States military might Sunday as "an indestructible force of incalculable power."

He assured the free world that through this power—sharply criticized by the Democratic party—"all of us can stand resolute and unafraid—confident in America's might as an anchor of free world security."

Eisenhower spoke in a national radio and television broadcast on the eve of his 15,000-mile trip to four South American countries — Brazil, Argentina, Chile and Uruguay. He appealed to Latin Americans not to believe Communist charges that the U.S. is holding Latin America in a colonial relationship.

The U.S. wants to foster the "triumph of human liberty" throughout the Western hemisphere; to help raise living standards among the Latin and to "condemn all efforts to undermine the democratic institutions of the Americas through coercion or subversion."

To Learn More and Share More

The president summed up his mission to South America in these words:

"To learn more about our friends to the south; to assure them again that the United States seeks to co-operate with them in achieving a fuller life for everyone in this hemisphere, and to make clear our desire to work closely with them in the building of a universal peace with justice."

While much of Eisenhower's speech dealt with problems of Latin America, he used the broadcast as a vehicle to defend his military policies against attack within his own country.

'Skiing Mailman' Wins Olympic Nordic Title

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (UPI)—A German mailman, a Russian school teacher and a French hotelman won gold medals in the Winter Olympics today while Carol Heiss of New York all but clinched the women's figure skating championship.

George Thoma, who practices while he works because he delivers mail on skis during the winter time, won the Nordic combined skiing title; Klara Gusev won the ladies' 1,000-metre speed skating to give Russia its second gold medal in that sport; and Jean Vaurent, who runs a hotel in Tunis, captured the men's gliding event, the downhill ski title.

Only Miss Heiss kept the day from being a complete European triumph. She had piled up such a commanding lead at the finish of the five compulsory figures that she would have to fall down, perhaps several times, in Tuesday's free skating to lose out.

Canada's Clarence Servold of Camrose, Alta.—half of the brother team of Irvin and Clarence Servold — finished second in the cross-country event, the 10-kilometre ski race. He was just 20 seconds behind the winner, Nicolai Gusakov. However, Servold was 32nd in the ski jumping half of the Nordic combined and finished 28th over-all. Thoma placed fourth in the cross-country.

A-G Asks Lowest Of Rates

British Columbia's basic commodity, lumber, should be given the lowest possible transportation charges consistent with costs, Attorney-General Robert Bonner told a Royal Commission on Transportation sitting in Victoria today.

Mr. Bonner also urged that B.C.'s fruit and vegetable producers should receive "similar assistance" to that enjoyed by producers of the Atlantic provinces and now proposed for grain producers on the Prairies.

In effect, he asked that B.C. shippers should share in the benefits of any federal subsidy given to the national railways—whether the aid is given for Prairie grain shipments, unprofitable passenger trains, uneconomical branch lines, or any other losing rail operations.

(The railways have already asked for a federal subsidy to offset yearly losses on their grain traffic—a subsidy to be paid to the railways but earmarked on behalf of western farmers.)

CROSS-EXAMINED

Under cross-examination by Ian Sinclair, CPR lawyer, Mr. Bonner complained that, under present conditions, it is cheaper for Okanagan growers to ship produce to "a state south of Manitoba and then have it trucked up to Winnipeg than to ship direct to Winnipeg across Canada."

"There is something wrong when we have a situation of that kind," he said.

In his dual capacity of minister of industrial development, trade and commerce, Mr. Bonner addressed the six-man transport commission at its one-day hearing in the Empress Hotel.

A detailed 72-page submission on behalf of the B.C. government was then read to the commission.

SET UP IN MAY

The commission was set up last May to investigate problems of Canada's railways and the impact of freight rates on various regions from coast to coast.

Under the chairmanship of Regina lawyer M. A. MacPherson, it has already sat in Quebec City, Montreal, Winnipeg, Regina and Edmonton, and will hold a further hearing in Vancouver Tuesday.

Herbert Anscomb of Victoria, a former B.C. finance minister, is one of the commissioners.

THIS WORLD OF OURS

People and Things

SURABAYA — Premier Khrushchev of Russia gave Indonesian President Sukarno some embarrassing moments Sunday at a exhibition of Indonesian art—beautiful hand-decorated cloth and finely worked Javanese silver.

Sukarno, a lover of the arts, proudly showed his visitor some colorful batik cloth and asked him: "Which would you like?"

"I don't like anything, I don't like anything," Khrushchev brusquely replied.

"The workmanship is good," he continued, "but they represent a bygone day, an era that is past. They cost too much not only in price but in human life. If we go on like this, there will be no progress. Life will be very expensive. Machines, machines are what you need."

MANCHESTER, Ky.—Aunt Josie Jackson Sizemore, legendary midwife who roamed the mountains on horseback for 40 years, is dead, apparently from old age. She said she was 113, had 500 descendants and had delivered 5,000 babies "up and down them hollows and branches" in the Kentucky and Tennessee hills. She died Sunday in her isolated mountain cabin.

NICOSIA, Cyprus — Eight RAF corporals today claimed a record by scoring 1,000,000 points in a dart game which lasted 47 hours and 21 minutes.

BOMBAY, India — Actor Frederic March and his wife, actress Florence Eldridge, were arrested along with another American couple and two others in Madras State Saturday on charges of violating Indian liquor prohibition laws. They were later released on bail.

BUNTINGFORD, England—Bachelor Fred Morris, who lives alone and likes it, was looking for a wife today. He decided he'd rather get married than find another house. Morris, 24, lives in a house owned by the town council. The council has a long list of families with three or four children waiting for housing. When Fred's father died recently, the council ordered him out.

"You can't live there alone," a council official told him. "There would be a riot." "I planned on staying a bachelor," Morris said. "But I'm determined to keep my home. So I'll get married as a last resort."

BANGOR, Wales — A pretty Welsh brunette said Saturday night a much-publicized love race between identical twin brothers — to decide which would lead her to the altar — was a hoax.

Jean Gowans, 19, said: "We dreamed the whole thing up. It was a hoax from the start. We wanted to put Bangor on the map but we only expected the story to get in local Welsh papers."

NEWLY-APPOINTED Dean of Applied Science, University of British Columbia, Dr. David M. Myers will address a meeting of the Victoria Branch, Association of Professional Engineers, in Holyrood House at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday. It will be his first visit to Victoria since his appointment.

Mystery Sub Attack A Mystery

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—An unofficial report said two Argentine navy planes attacked and presumably damaged a mystery submarine Sunday night in Golfo Nuevo.

A high navy official in Puerto Madryn, on the gulf, denied the report.

Argentine navy units for the last 24 days have been hunting what Argentina says is a submarine—or possibly two—in the gulf in southern Argentina.

The report that an attack by navy Corsair planes may have damaged an underwater craft came from the Argentine navy base at Bahia Blanca. This account said the two fighters, on a patrol flight over the gulf, sighted a surfacing submarine and promptly attacked it with bombs.

The report said the sub disappeared beneath the water quickly and an oil slick later was sighted.

It will be open to the public. There will be a display of hobby craft articles made by prisoners. These are sold regularly and proceeds are used to re-establish the hobbyist following his release from prison.

Economic Control By Castro Feared

HAVANA (AP) — Businessmen viewed Cuba's creation of a national planning board Sunday as a step toward complete control of the Cuban economy by Premier Fidel Castro's government.

The new agency formed by Castro's cabinet during the weekend was a natural follow-up to steps already taken by the government to nationalize important industries, these businessmen said.

The decree establishing the board said its duties would be to supervise and co-ordinate economic policies of the government and to "point out general orienting norms" for private enterprise.

National Bank Chief Ernesto Che Cueva recently told a television audience the government would nationalize from 51 to 100 per cent of five basic industries from which foreign capital would be excluded.

He said these industries would be metallurgy, fuel, livestock and agriculture, sugar cane derivatives, and heavy industry.

Businessmen consider the new law's provision giving the labor ministry the right to intervene in the operation of firms beset with labor trouble as the government's strongest weapon.

NEW YORK TO LONDON IN 2 HOURS

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain is thinking of building a supersonic airliner capable of making the 3,000-mile New York-London flight in two hours, two London newspapers reported.

The Sunday Express and the Observer say Aviation Minister Duncan Sandys planned to get reports from the Hawker Siddeley-de Havilland and Vickers-English electrical aeronautical combines on the feasibility of such a plane.

Makes a man feel ten feet tall! What does? Why, having money in the bank, of course! When you've got a nice pad of savings behind you, you can take advantage of sale prices. And when you spot something you want, you can pay cash for it. Or, if someone in the family gets sick, it's nice to know the money is right there to look after him. The fact is, everything in life looks better when you've got cash in the bank. And it doesn't take long to run up a nice sum when you make small but regular deposits. Yes sir, money in the bank really does give a man that ten-foot tall feeling. Do you know where I save my money?

$30,000 Given By Lumber Firm

Sooke Lake Lumber, Ltd., has pledged $30,000 towards the University of Victoria building fund drive.

The pledge was announced on the weekend by company president Newton D. Cameron, a former student of Victoria College.

"Apart from sentiment, we believe it will be good business for us all to see that our college, now to be a university, is able to extend its service for the benefit of our citizens of the future," he said.

"I am sure that all our local firms and citizens will support this campaign to the limit and ensure its success."

IN FULL SWING
Canvassing of corporations and "special names" is in full swing now. Briefing sessions for teams that will canvass householders, businessmen and other groups will be held soon. Meanwhile, campaign chairman R. B. Wilson pointed out that growth of the university will benefit Victoria.

An enrollment of 4,000 students would result in spending of $10,000,000 annually in this area, he said. Estimated budget of a university of that size would be $6,000,000.

Marilyn Ardley, president of the student council, pointed out that in her first year at the University of B.C. she was in a class of 300 students. The overworked professor told them not to come to him unless they had "real" problems.

ONE OF HIGHEST

By contrast, personal contact between student and teacher is encouraged here, Miss Ardley said.

"Victoria University now has one of the highest academic standards in Canada," she said.

"But because of inadequate buildings and facilities, a full slate of courses in any one field cannot be given. The result: young people must be turned away."

'Mechanical Monstrosity' Says Horrified Magistrate

Magistrate William Ostler in police court Friday termed the truck in question "a horror."

The 1941 model two-ton truck belonging to Alex Patterson, 897, Vernon, had no truck clearance lights, no horn, no signals, a badly cracked windshield impairing vision, no stop lights, no brakes, no mud flaps, no windshield wipers, and a rear licence plate not easily seen.

Mr. Ostler called the truck "a mechanical monstrosity."

Mr. Patterson, charged with operating an inadequately equipped truck, said the truck had been recently cleared through an RCMP road block.

"I simply do not believe..." said the magistrate. Sentence will be handed down Feb. 22.

In the meantime Mr. Patterson was fined $25 for wrong licence plates on his truck.

KILLER FLU CLAIMS 33 IN ASYLUM EPIDEMIC

PONTEVICO, Italy (UPI) — A deadly influenza epidemic raged through an asylum for insane women today. Thirty-three of the elderly inmates have already died and at least 10 of the 60 women in the infirmary are in critical condition.

Many more of the 500 inmates of the insane asylum, housed in an old castle, are in danger of coming down with the virus.

"Most of the victims had to be fed like babies for several years," an asylum official said. "Others were unable to walk or to have any kind of normal life. They were old and weak, and the virus infection which caused this epidemic found a very easy ground."

Accountants Ask Taxation Probe

DOCTORS in Seattle said today a strenuous concert tour by British conductor Sir Thomas Beecham had imposed a general strain on the heart and he would be unable to conduct two concerts next week.

OTTAWA (CP) — A royal commission study of double taxation was recommended today by the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants and the Canadian Bar Association in their annual joint submission to the federal government.

The recommendation referred in part to the broad picture of corporate taxation, wherein earnings are taxed first in the hands of a company and again in the hands of shareholders.

It also referred to particular aspects of taxation, such as the provisions covering the distribution to shareholders of earnings which a company has retained or accumulated over a period of years—commonly known as surplus.

RULES CONFUSING

The submission said piece-meal legislation, aimed at preventing taxpayers from legitimate taxes, had resulted in complication, confusion and uncertainty.

NATIVE DAUGHTER'S BEEN AROUND

The Lady Who's Known as 'Rog'

By MONTE ROBERTS

A native daughter of Victoria returned home over the weekend after many years and thousands of miles of journeying around the world.

She is now a citizen of Yugoslavia, by reason of a brief ceremony in the registry office, and an official listing in Lloyd's of London.

The native daughter was first known here as Fort Berens. Later she became Mission Park, then Ottawa Valley. And she returns bearing the terse, monosyllabic moniker: Rog.

The much-travelled lady was built here by Victoria Machinery Depot Ltd., as part of the wartime hurry-up-and-build-them-before-Hitler-sinks-them merchant navy program.

She was launched Aug. 15, 1944, the 17th 10,000-ton freighter of the class generally called "Park Ships" built at VMD since the start of the Second World War.

Mrs. Andrew McGavin, wife of the then-mayor of Victoria, pulled the trigger that exploded the traditional champagne bottle against the ship's bow.

IN 10 MONTHS

In the hurry-up tradition of the war, the keel of Rog—to use her current name—was laid on April 10, 1944, and she was in service 10 months later.

So VMD built her in a hurry, but they built her to last.

Those who saw the "lady who's known as Rog" at the Ogden Point dock of Victoria Elevators will agree she's showing a few wrinkles of age, and no doubt feels the odd ache and rattle inside.

But, with 15 years of honest steaming under her keel, she's 100A1 at Lloyd's, a tribute to her builders, and a native daughter of whom every Victorian can well be proud.

Austria Nazis Linked To U.S. Ku Klux Klan

VIENNA (AP) — Austrian police announced Sunday that a secret Nazi underground group uncovered here had close links with the Ku Klux Klan of the United States and an international Fascist movement with headquarters in Sweden. Three leaders of the group were arrested on charges of neo-Nazi activities.

A police spokesman said large quantities of anti-semitic propaganda seized during a police raid on a Vienna printing plant had been shipped to Austria from the United States and Sweden.

The organization was described as part of a world-wide network of anti-semitic and neo-Nazi groups. Among the propaganda material there was also a monthly "Fuehrer letter" printed and distributed by the outlawed Hitler-style "Austrian National Youth."

Police said the organization was headed by two notorious Austrian neo-Nazis, Leopold Windisch and Fred Borth. Both were arrested last month on charges of inciting public unrest.

Part of the material—anti-semitic pamphlets, drawings and posters—bore the inscription "Ku Klux Klan of America" the spokesman said. Some were marked "printed by the white motherhood," said to be an European branch of the Klan. Other books and pamphlets were printed in Malmö, Sweden, by the Fascist "social European movement," the spokesman said.

The underground group served as cover-up for six outlawed Austrian Nazi organizations, he said.

Those arrested were Alfred Honkisz, 33, owner of the printing plant; Herbert Drexler, 25, a university student, and Miss Heidi Suessmayer, 22, also a student. Police said all three have records of neo-Nazi activity.

Quake Levels Algeria Towns

ALGIERS, Algeria (CP) — Forty-six persons, mainly women and children, were killed and 88 injured Sunday when two villages 90 miles south of Algeria were hit by three earthquakes in less than three hours.

Both villages—Melouza and Beni-Hilmane—were devastated by quakes 12 years ago.

About 100 of the 300 houses in Beni-Hilmane were destroyed and the rest damaged badly, rescue workers reported.

A helicopter pilot who flew over Melouza described it as "a heap of earth and dust."

Reports from Beni-Hilmane said 15 of the dead were children who were in the village school when the quakes hit. Most of the other victims were women. The men were out at work at the time.

One survivor said: "I thought the mountain on the side of which the villages are built had exploded."

French troops were flown into the area as soon as reports of the quake were received. Many of the injured were flown to hospital in Setif, 185 miles from here.

Many of the victims Sunday were among about 100 families believed to have been moved into Melouza after Algerian insurgents massacred the village's 300 inhabitants three years ago for supporting a rival nationalist movement.

Which Way for Canada?

THE DIFENBAKER GOVERNMENT came to office on the promise to divert a substantial part of Canada's trade from North America to Britain and the Commonwealth. That promise, like many others, was broken and today Canada is more dependent than ever on the single American market. As recent dispatches on this page have argued, Canada must diversify its exports and imports or eventually become nothing but an economic suburb of the United States.

Where the Government failed to change the pattern of trade, as it was bound to fail by its chosen methods, events now promise to compel this result — provided the Government grasps its latest opportunity.

In Europe two powerful free-trade zones, the Common Market and the Outer Seven, will begin, on July 1, to reduce the tariffs among their members. If those reductions are not applied to imports from the world at large Canada and the United States will suffer discrimination in Europe and soon begin to lose business there.

Realizing, very late in the day, that this threat is serious, the United States has moved to forestall it.

The project of a new trans-Atlantic free trade area including North America and western Europe is not regarded as practical American politics, since it would plunge the whole tariff issue into a protectionist Congress. But the American Government is prepared to reduce its tariffs without consulting Congress, under the President's reciprocal trade powers, if the European trade blocs will extend their tariff cuts to everybody.

The American plan would prevent Europe's discrimination against Canadian goods and, by mutual tariff reductions, would expand Canada's exports to Europe. But a price must be paid for that chance.

Europe will not extend tariff reductions to North America if North America refuses to reduce its tariff. Hence the Diefenbaker Government must soon face in concrete form the problem of trade diversification which it has so often and so vainly discussed in abstract.

Is it ready to make tariff reductions, at the expense of its potent protectionist friends, to build up our European markets? Or does it intend to allow Canada to drift more and more into the American orbit? Apart from foreign dangers, that is the largest question in Canada today.

No Mushroom Colleges

DR. J. W. T. SPINKS, NEW president of the University of Saskatchewan, with the diplomacy of his calling has declined to offer suggestions on the way Victoria College should assume university status and what the future relationship should be between it and the University of British Columbia.

But if he has avoided any direct statement, his opinion on the question is quite clear. He cites the case of his own university as an example of the desirable unity between institutions at Saskatoon and at Regina and he deplores as uneconomic and inefficient the development of a multiplicity of independent universities within a single province.

In other words, Dr. Spinks endorses the principle under which Victoria College, as a university, will remain immediately associated with the University of British Columbia, with which it is now directly affiliated.

This is the plan of both Mount

Tolmie and Point Grey authorities. Dr. Norman MacKenzie, president of the University of British Columbia, has expressed the hope that Victoria College will become the outstanding liberal arts university of Canada. Dr. Harry Hickman, principal of Victoria College, and his associates including those on the College Council, have emphasized the advantages of bestowing upon graduates from the local courses the U.B.C. degree.

Dr. Spinks apparently endorses such arrangements. His words, however, constitute a warning against the mushroom growth of small independent colleges wherever there seems to be a population sufficient to support them. Any such development would dissipate the strength that should be channelled into a strong university, adequately financed and adequately staffed—the type of institution which can and will exist in British Columbia with faculties at Point Grey and in Victoria.

A Triumph for Canada

CANADIANS, WHO MADE A national sweetheart of Barbara Ann Scott when she won Olympic honors to cap her world championship career in figure skating, glow with pride again over the achievements of Barbara Wagner and Bob Paul.

They have won three world's championships in figure and skating pairs and now, at Squaw Valley, have added the Olympic medallion to their trophy case.

Expert commentators have been warm in their praise of the Toronto pair's excellence. One has doubted that the Winter Olympics will provide anything finer than the Canadians' showing on the opening day.

It is pleasing to hear such comment. The tone is good. It is a tone we in Canada might well keep in mind as the Winter Games progress and when some of our performers fall somewhat short of Barbara's and Bob's triumph.

To the victor, the palm—and the more graciously it is extended and applauded, the closer people come to the Olympic ideal.

The Risk in Kazakhstan

AN INTERESTING POINT IS raised in regard to Mr. Khrushchev's highly publicized drive to open up vast new wheatlands in the Kazakhstan plains, never before put to the plow.

For some weeks now there have been sounds of annoyance, even anguish, issuing from Mr. Khrushchev as a result of disappointing crops from the virgin lands. The agricultural chief has been fired, underlings have been tongue-lashed as though their failure had been personally directed at the Soviet leader.

But an explanation from Dr. Lazar Volin, of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and one of the world's few experts on Soviet farming, throws new light on Mr. Khrushchev's extreme sensitivity regarding Kazakhstan.

The BBC Gets Through

RECENT REPORTS STATE that Russia has ceased to jam BBC broadcasts and that the multitude of Soviet transmitters constructed and operated at enormous expense to chatter and gibber the British broadcasts into insensibility.

Now the "Bibbicee" can get through and westerners are wondering why. One explanation is that Mr. Khrushchev finds the material carried from London harmless—maybe even beneficial in creating a domestic Russian attitude suitable for the diplomacy of the day.

Other suggestions come to mind. One is that Mr. Khrushchev finds Russia's newspapers dull and wants to hear the BBC news himself. Or, again, maybe it costs too much to obliterate the latter.

Speech is silver; they say, and maybe the chatter of jamming is gold—too much gold to be spent for the good it does.

The People Must Like What's on the Pole

THE new "provincial flag" which has suddenly been introduced into the legislature as ours — although many voices have been raised in a hurried "Not mine! Not mine!" — presents anew the perennial question of what should go into such an emblem. This has been a pressing national problem in Canada for several generations; now it has become a provincial issue as well. And even in the United States, where national symbols are usually beyond public criticism, a few experts are beginning to question the bona fides of that almost sacred emblem, the eagle.

The latter point has been raised by the plan to place a huge eagle, with 35-foot wing span, over the new U.S. Embassy in London. There has been criticism that the extended-wing pose is an infringement of the official party's extended version to be found in the seal of the United States, which cannot be changed except by Congress.

But a deeper doubt is heard in the question of whether a bird, described as "an emblem of imperial might, rapacity and brute power" should represent the United States in a world where these qualities are decidedly out of favor.

The Canadian flag controversy is of longer standing, and will probably be of longer settlement. The red ensign, with a small union jack and the Canadian coat-of-arms on a red field, is favored by many and has practically country-wide use. Without any official decision to the contrary it will probably become, by the passage of time, the only accepted flag.

The thousands of versions produced by amateur and other flag makers reflect thousands of different interests and tastes.

Some are childish; some are carefully worked out; some are painstakingly symbolic to the point where a page of fine print would have to go up the pole with them to interpret them to the viewer. Some cover the needed requirements but are ugly; some are so far away from recognized heraldic standards that they would cause smiles abroad if not at home; some reflect merely the personal ambitions of the creator.

Product of Time

Perhaps most overlooked is the fact that a national emblem must grow, rather than be created. It must, by accretion through the years, represent the ideals and beliefs of a nation; it must be a focal point of public affection and respect.

It is difficult to see how a flag can achieve all that merely by proclamation. A nation's history cannot be proclaimed; it must be lived—so, too, the emblem that signifies that history and all that it represents in national birth, growth and fruition.

In earlier times, a flag was a rallying point in battle and a statement of identity. Two world wars have given the red ensign a certain standing in that regard, not only among Canadians but also abroad. It therefore has a good lead in the race for establishment and official approval.

A provincial flag seems to me to have a different purpose from that of a national emblem. Rather than inspire patriotism or affection, it should serve primarily as identification. To do this it should be simple, easily recognized, tastefully designed and widely approved.

All But the Sink

The Government's offering seems to be none of these. It is more a pictorial catalogue than a symbol, more of an advertisement than an emblem. It needs only Butchart Gardens and the Big Bend Highway to become a tourist folder.

Fir trees, dogwood, waves, coat of arms, mountains, buildings, chimneys—they constitute an inventory that should be on paper, not on bunting.

A committee of artists with advisers on heraldry and protocol should be set up to design a provincial flag—if we really need and want a provincial flag—and then the result of their efforts should be given enough publicity to ascertain that at least a majority of the people like it.

Then maybe we'll be ready for a provincial flag—if we really need and want a provincial flag.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Private Opinion

I would be obliged if you would publish the following as my reply to the statement attributed to Alderman Geoffrey Edgewood at the joint meeting of City Waterworks and Parks Committees, and published by the Victoria Daily Times, February 16, 1960, accusing me of "misleading the public" and "scrapping the barrel to get public sympathy". I would like to state the following facts:

1. Since the proposed easement at Thetis Lake became an issue, the only time I have expressed myself publicly on the subject was at the meeting of Thetis Park Nature Sanctuary Association on January 21. This was a statement expressing my private opinion, to which I am entitled the same as anyone else. On two occasions I emphasized that I was speaking not as the provincial botanist, not even as a member of the association but as a private individual—and plant scientist. The minutes of this meeting are easily obtainable and could be disclosed to anyone. I am not ashamed of my principles and beliefs. This statement or phrases from it never appeared in the local press.

2. It is true that I was asked by the Victoria Daily Colonist to make a statement concerning the type of vegetation in the area involved, and I classified it as secondary growth forest. This statement was printed by the Colonist on the following day.

3. In discussing this issue with individuals I always presented my personal opinion.

4. I never had any intention of misleading the public or playing on public sympathy as my interest in Thetis Lake is purely scientific and I believe in the practical value of plant conservation for future generations.

Personally I fully respect the opinion of others and am always willing to discuss, not criticize any differences of opinion.

Generous Act

The generous action of Saanich pioneer Tom Francis is a good illustration of the two forces of life represented in the Buddhist mythical gods—the Preserver and the Destroyer.

Mr. Francis has offered the B.C. parks department 100 acres of virgin timber adjacent to Thetis Park.

A man of small means, he has preserved this property for future generations to enjoy. He has done this despite tempting offers throughout his life to sell his land.

On the other hand we have certain aldermen who are prepared to exploit and sell part of Thetis Park for the paltry sum of $5,200. The alienation of the public property would do much to destroy the natural beauty of the park.

I might add, many Victorians for years have dreamed of a highland park adjoining the capital city which would rival Stanley Park. With the city's co-operation and Mr. Francis' offer, this could now become a reality. The alternative is to destroy a valuable asset.

Canadian Flag

I am surprised that so many presumably intelligent people are devoting so much of their time and talents in seeking what they are pleased to refer to as a distinctive Canadian flag, built around the Maple Leaf, and without the Union Jack or symbol of any other country. This is in line with the resolution passed at the national convention of the Young Liberal Federation and later endorsed by Mr. L. B. Pearson.

I submit, Mr. Editor, that we already have a flag of which all Canadians should be proud. Those who are opposed to the Red Ensign and desire a new flag are either sadly misinformed or their opinions are based on prejudice or selfishness.

The Red Ensign is a distinctive Canadian flag, having gradually grown as it were, since the earliest days of our history. Let it never be forgotten that for so many years Britain placed a protective shield around this country and eventually bestowed upon Canada the greatest of all gifts, that of independence. Unfortunately, so many Canadians are so shortsighted and indifferent, so that as a result we are now in danger of losing our heritage for a "mess of American pottage". It is undoubtedly true to say that we allow the United States to dominate our very existence.

If we continue to be so indifferent as to our future, the only new flag Canada will obtain will be Old Glory, with an additional star thereon, proclaiming to all the world that a once proud Canada has sold her birthright for the "Almighty Dollar".

Just as Painful

We were informed by Mr. Bennett very proudly that there would be no tax increase this session, but we were notified today that there would be an increase in the cost of Red-Mix Concrete delivered to us, due to an enormous increase in cost of truck licensing.

This increase will cost us far more than the $22 of our own money handed back, after passing through many expensive bureaucratic hands, on our house taxes.

Concealed taxes are just as painful in the long run as an honest tax, honestly and openly applied.

OTTAWA:

Divorce Mill

By MAURICE WESTERN

THE judges of the High Court of Parliament are once again at their business of separating irreconcilable husbands and wives. It is a strange court, for these judges wear no robes; possess, in many cases, no formal legal credentials; and hold office, if they are commoners, by virtue of popular elections in which the judicial function of the MP is rarely mentioned or considered.

They are, in the main, reluctant judges. The Commons, in particular, complain bitterly that this is no proper work for an over-burdened Parliament. But it is Parliament's inescapable responsibility and will remain so while citizens of Quebec and Newfoundland, provinces without divorce courts, are provided with no other means of redress.

Some idea of the magnitude of the work may be gleaned from the 1959 report of Senator Arthur Roebuck.

Heavy Schedule

The Senate, according to its committee chairman, received last year 449 divorce petitions of which 356 were brought to trial, 10 withdrawn and 83 held over.

The House rarely dissents from Senate bills. As Mr. Winch pointed out in a recent debate, the Commons in the years 1945 to 1958 received 4,072 bills of divorce from the Senate, concurring in 4,054 cases and rejecting only 18.

The House, not surprisingly, begrudges the time necessarily subtracted from its legislative labors. Moreover, the work is not evenly distributed; Roman Catholic members, for reasons of religion, rarely serve on these committees.

In 1959 the Senate committee met 57 times (its subcommittees 114 times) on 57 separate days. Hearings, in camera, normally lasted for three hours. But in some contested cases the subcommittee sat from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. in accordance with its working rule that cases should not go over into a second day with consequential additions to the expenses of the petitioner.

The House committee (known as the committee on miscellaneous private bills) held 30 meetings for a total of 25 hours. But this is merely the formal part of the work.

Lengthy Evidence

Members (50 in the case of the House) are required to appraise evidence running to at least 3,000 pages. A West Coast member argued in 1956 that the time required of an MP in that year merely to read the printed evidence would approximate 26½ hours.

It is not easy to estimate the average cost of a parliamentary divorce. In contested cases, when it is necessary to bring witnesses from remote points, expenses may be very high.

One Senator, of eminence in the legal profession, hazards the guess that, in the general run of cases, the costs incurred by petitioners are about twice those prevailing in Ontario (which approximate $500).

There is, to begin with, the standard fee of $210. In cases of serious need the Senate may reduce this, usually to the basic cost of $125 (covering, for example, the printing of reports—distribution of which is confined to members of the two Houses), or even to a nominal figure. Comparable court charges would not exceed $100.

Legal Expenses

But the larger expenses are those involved in legal fees, in the payment of detectives, in transportation and accommodation of witnesses and the petitioners themselves. As a rule, in the provinces, the evidence is available locally; in Ottawa it has often to be assembled from distant points.

From the manner in which the House passes divorce bills (with batches of a hundred or more being disposed of in wholesale fashion), it is sometimes assumed that the work is slipshod. But this does less than justice to the committees.

In contested cases the chairman is nearly always a lawyer and his colleagues are, in general, conscientious public servants, some of whom (Senator Gershaw of Medicine Hat is an excellent example) have served on the divorce committees of both Houses for a long span of years. As the evidence differs little, if at all, from that heard in the courts, there is no reason to suppose that justice suffers from the nature of the tribunal.

But it is surely unsatisfactory that the House of Commons, whose legislative labors commonly extend into the humid heat of an Ottawa July or August, should be saddled with these additional judicial duties.

MARKED

MASTER OF OUR FATE

People who brandish naturalistic principles at us are usually up to mischief. Think only of what we have suffered from a belief in the existence and overriding authority of a fighting instinct; from the doctrines of racial superiority; and the metaphysics of blood and soil; from the belief that warfare between men or classes of men represents a fulfillment of historical laws. These are all excuses of one kind or another, and pretty thin excuses. The inference we can draw from an analytical study of the differences between ourselves and other animals is surely this: that the bells which toll for mankind are—most of them, anyway—like the bells on alpine cattle: they are attached to our own necks, and it must be our fault if they do not make a cheerful and harmonious sound.

Irreverent Fun

REACTIONS to humor differ so greatly that I always hesitate to recommend a book that I have found amusing.

But I can't let W. E. Bowman's "The Ascent of Rum Doodle" go back to the Bookmobile without telling column readers that it gave me the best laugh I've had for months. (Rum Doodle, of course, is that ruthless giant, that mighty queen of the snows, which we all know as the highest mountain in the world.)

A short, splendidly solemn book, "The Ascent of Rum Doodle" is written as if the story were told by the expedition's leader who is an unbelievably earnest, high-minded fellow with such a rosy opinion of his fellow-climbers that he believes them to be as noble, unselfish, and pure as he is himself.

He loves to write of the rewards of leadership and of the value of the team spirit. A plain chap, he writes plainly except when his emotions are deeply stirred. Then he writes a purple prose which is a delight to read. (The poet in him is quite dreadful.) The earnest Foreword is by Sir Hugely Havering who says that the book should be read—and re-read—by every schoolboy and by all who value human endeavor and fortitude.

The Introduction is by O. Totter, whose opinions are constantly quoted by the expedition's leader.

Ruth

The Rum Doodle team is composed of men who have all been high. Excellent on rock, splendid on ice, or simply distinguished by their social tact and good fellowship, they hurry back to London from the Alps, the Caucasus, the Atlas Mountains, the Rockies, the Andes and the Himalayas.

The book describes them planning the expedition, working through the hectic months of preparation, travelling out to Yogiistan, engaging the native porters, and combatting the tremendous trials which face them in the mighty work they've undertaken.

As readers, we become very conscious of the importance of the team spirit without which no expedition can succeed. For, as Totter so truly said: "When you are swinging helplessly on the end of a hundred-foot rope, it is important to know that the man on the other end is a friend."

"The Ascent of Rum Doodle" has it all—the solemn record of previous sightings of the Atrocious Snowman, the Rankling La, the North Wall, the Base Camp, Advanced Camp, and the Final Assault.

The book is solemn nonsense from start to finish, and a wonderful treat for anyone who has mixed with mountaineers, or read books on the ascent of Everest.

Here and there, I noticed some flat spots, and I thought the pace lagged a little in the second half. But it's a long time since I've read a book that's so full of high-spirited, irreverent fun. I loved it.

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

Rock 'n' Roll to Power

LONDON—The Labor Party, looking forward hopefully to making a better showing in the next election years hence, are taking a leaf out of the Tories' book—though they swear they aren't.

The Tories have for many years had a virile Young Conservative movement. Virile is the right word. Whenever I've been exposed to a Young Conservative get-together the pace has always been a bit hot for me. "Rock 'n' roll and fun-and-games appear outwardly to be the main object of the operation . . . and then you realize it's the sugar-coated pill."

The youth sections of the Labor Party, as befits the socialist approach, have been conducted on very staid, earnest lines. Indoctrination in the socialist philosophy has been the main concern.

But now it has got to the powers-that-be in Labor that this is perhaps the wrong way to bring in young adherents.

A circular has gone out to all local Labor parties, inaugurating a new young organization the Young Socialists. It is hoped that in time there will be a branch in every constituency in Britain.

"Most members will join a branch of the Young Socialists because they will wish to mix with their own age group and take part in activities which have a special appeal to the young. It is to be expected that at first only a few will be natural 'politicians'."

"So there must be a broad program, including dances and jazz sessions, theatre and cinema parties, sports items, debates, discussions, dramatics, organized outings and holiday parties."

Though Morgan Phillips, the unwanted parliamentary candidate who is secretary of the Labor Party, says that this isn't an attempt to copy the Young Conservative movement, it would take an expert to differentiate it from the Tories' "Let's have fun" approach.

PHILIP'S AUNT DIES

Royal Family Mourns Lady Mountbatten

LONDON (UPI)—Countess Edwina Mountbatten, 58, aunt of Prince Philip, and one of Britain's wealthiest women, died Saturday in British North Borneo while on a Red Cross inspection tour.

Queen Elizabeth and her husband went into family mourning, only two days after celebrating the birth of their third child. The Lord Chamberlain said there would be no court mourning. The royal family will fulfill official but not social engagements.

Lady Mountbatten was the wife of Earl Mountbatten of Burma, Britain's top military commander in his capacity as chief of the defence staff.

RAISED PHILIP

The Mountbattens raised Prince Philip from boyhood, after the death of his father, Prince Andrew of Greece, and the decision of his mother, Princess Andrew, to become a nun. She is the sister of Earl Mountbatten.

The Mountbatten name stirred controversy earlier this month with the Queen's decision to give her descendants not in direct line to the throne the name Mountbatten-Windsor.

Lady Mountbatten died in her sleep in Jesselton, British North Borneo, after a day of touring Red Cross installations Friday.

"She died as she had lived—giving away her life in the same gentle manner in which she gave help and assistance."

'ALL THEY HAD TO DO WAS PHONE'—GAGLARDI

KAMLOOPS (CP) — Highways Minister Gagliardi said he was unaware of any complaints from Salt Spring Island residents regarding the road from Fulford Harbor to Isabella Point.

The residents were quoted as saying they were fed up with waiting for the provincial government to repair damage caused by January storms and that they fixed the road themselves.

"I'm in my office five days a week and all they had to do was pick up the phone," Mr. Gagliardi said, "but I didn't hear about it."

Egg Price Boost As Surplus Ends

Prices of large, medium and small eggs went up three, four and four cents, respectively, on producer and wholesale levels today.

The sharp increase was explained by the disappearance of a surplus on Vancouver Island and a lack of offerings from the Prairies.

All eggs available today are from local producers.

Hialeah Records Fall

From AP Reports

Victoria Park, owned by E. P. Taylor, of Toronto, has replaced Bally Ache as the favorite to win next Saturday's $100,000-added Flamingo Stakes at Florida's Hialeah Park.

A track-record performance in the fifth race at Hialeah, Saturday, carried Victoria Park to a 2½-length victory over the favored Bally Ache before 35,014 fans and made the Taylor entry the choice for the Flamingo run.

Toting 118 pounds, Victoria Park blazed the mile and one-sixteenth in 1:40.35 to knock 145 seconds off the former Hialeah mark. World record for the distance is 1:39, held by Swaps.

Another Hialeah track record was shattered when Bald Eagle swept past the leaders in the stretch and won the $126,000 Widener Handicap.

Ridden by Manuel Ycaza and packing 123 pounds, Bald Eagle galloped the mile and one-quarter distance in 1:59.35, breaking the mark set by El Mono in 1948. On and On was three-quarters of a length back and Talent Show was third. Sword Dancer finished seventh.

At Arcadia, Calif., Flow Line captured the $58,300 San Felipe Handicap and appeared a major threat to win the $100,000-added Santa Anita Derby next month.

Jockey Bill Boland made it a wire-to-wire victory on Flow Line by ¾ lengths over T. V. Lark with John William third. At Bowie, Yes You Will won the Burch Memorial Handicap with a three-length margin over Tinkalero.

'The Highest Hut in the World'

CHICAGO (UPI) — The highest hut in the world will house Sir Edmund Hillary's Himalaya Mountains expedition next winter, the conqueror of Mt. Everest said Saturday.

"It will look like a great big drainpipe, 22 feet long, 10 feet wide and eight feet high," Hillary told a news conference.

He said he would buy the barrel-like parts from a British firm and tote them 19,700 feet up Mt. Makalu in Nepal to the party's high-altitude winter camp.

From the lofty hut, Hillary and Marlin Perkins, curator of Lincoln Park Zoo in Chicago, will direct their hunt for the legendary "abominable snowman."

The expedition also will test the rigors of high-altitude living without spare oxygen supplies.

Hillary said an air force physiologist may go up Makalu with the party. The air force has expressed great interest in the high-altitude survival experiment, he said.

Hillary, the first man to scale Mt. Everest, said six to eight men would spend the winter with him. He said he planned to build the hut rather than use tents, as on Everest, because the Makalu expedition will take nine months. He spent only three months on Everest.

Hillary also showed newsmen an application from the youngest volunteer for his trek.

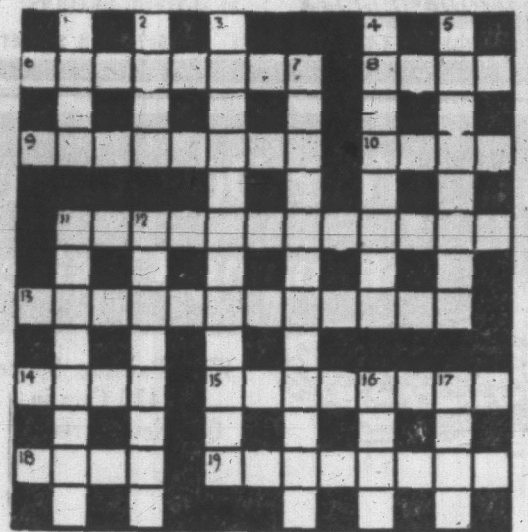

The writer, Todd Cavalek, of Highland Park, Ill., wrote that he was an expert snake hunter, with more than 30 captures in the past year.

"I think I could help catch the abominable snowman," Todd wrote. "I'm also seven."

SOLUTION WEDNESDAY

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer, will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a Children's Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and the second question a Children's Encyclopedia (American edition).

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Jim Hanson, aged 14, of Ottawa, Ont., for his question:

Does the Barking Deer Really Bark?

The barking deer—alias the jungle sheep, the hog-deer, the rib-faced deer, the muntjak and the muntjac—is native to southeastern Asia, Java and other East-Indian islands. He is a wise and wary little fellow, not quite so tall as a sheep and much slimmer. And, yes, he does bark like a dog.

In fact, for such a small animal, he has a mighty loud bark. He and his relatives may be heard barking in the early morning and when night falls upon the jungle. He also barks when he wishes to attract the attention of the lady muntjac.

Mr. Muntjac is less graceful than the antelopes and other deer. He runs on slender legs and dainty feet, but his neck is short and he usually humps his back. When speaking, he carries his neck low and his head down—with none of the proud elegance of the speeding antelope. His face is heart shaped, with soft bug-eyes and large sensitive ears. His little head is crowned with a pair of pronged antlers, six inches long.

Strange to say, this gentle face is adorned with a pair of canine teeth, large enough to hang down over the lower lip. This is very startling for, as a rule, only the meat eating animals have canine teeth and the muntjac, being a deer, is a strict vegetarian. In fact, his canines make him unique in the world of deer.

However, there is a purpose for these amazing teeth. Muntjac meat is good to eat and the little fellow is often hunted. Usually, he is fast enough and smart enough to take cover in his friendly jungle. But when cornered by attacking dogs, he turns and rips with those canine teeth. For such a little fellow, he puts up a very good fight.

Teeth Free to Move About

The teeth are amazing in another respect. They are not fixed firmly in the jawbone and the muntjac can move them around as he wishes. When several muntjacs are running along together, they often make a clacking noise. This rattle is thought to be made by his cheerfully clacking canines.

The grown muntjac may be almost any shade of brown from tawny, through chestnut to deep mahogany red. He has a very long tongue, long enough to wash all over his pretty face which he often does.

Mr. Muntjac has no antlers. Mr. Muntjac loses his antlers in May and a new pair has grown by the following August.

Muntjac fawns are born in June or July. Usually the mother has but one baby. Sometimes there are twins, feeding ground to another in Junior is a cute youngster search of bamboo shoots and dressed in a soft, brown coat wild celery.

Venus Shot Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — An attempt to shoot a 90-pound space probe to intersect the orbit of the planet Venus will be made sometime during March, it was learned Friday. Such an attempt was planned for last December but was postponed when technical difficulties developed while the carrier rocket was on the launching pad at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

African gorillas are vegetarians but one baby gorilla sometimes there are twins, feeding ground to another in Junior is a cute youngster search of bamboo shoots and dressed in a soft, brown coat wild celery.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—The "I Like Inger Club" will come to order.

It was a Monday that could have been blue for Inger Stevens. Her show, "Roman Candle," had died after four nights.

But the slender, blonde Swedish beauty who started her career as Bing Crosby's leading lady—"on screen and off," as the papers said—was as cheerful looking as the Broadway winter sunshine that she went walking in.

"So I'm looking for work," said the gal who not only used to dance at the Latin Quarter but once lived briefly in Manhattan, Kan.

WENT TO BED
"What did I do when we closed? Well, I picked up my makeup, my worn telegrams, a pair of potholders a fan had brought me, a bottle of champagne, and I went to the hotel, took off my makeup and went to bed."

Inger—who had bought out her Paramount Hollywood contract because she didn't want to be lent out to MGM to do a picture she didn't like—was fascinated by the whole Broadway razzle-dazzle.

"The first morning so many people were calling up about the notices I couldn't get a complete bath. For 2 1/2 hours I was making a little lake running from the bathtub to the phone."

It reminded her of Hollywood. "When I arrived there," she said, "nobody met me, I simply got off the bus."

NEVER MET HIM
"All of a sudden I became Bing Crosby's girl friend—and I hadn't even met him yet. It was part of being in his picture..."

Life's been a battle. She still pays her ex-husband and ex-agent, Tony Soglio, part of her earnings, as a remnant of the divorce settlement. And there were other contracts, too.

"I do things I don't want to do to pay off contracts when I should be studying!"

Would she be marrying Alan Livingston, the NBC executive who's un-marrying Betty Hutton?

"Criminey, how can we know?" replied this girl who arrived in the U.S. at 12 on a freighter to reunite with her father, who was a professor in Kansas and at Lubbock, Tex., and got acquainted with America before she could speak English.

Cool Reception by Reeves On Tax Amnesty Proposal

Reeves of Greater Victoria's municipalities are cool to a proposal by J. Donald Smith (SC-Victoria) to exempt from taxes improvements to older homes.

Mr. Smith feels this would give the owners of older homes some incentive to repair and spruce up their dwellings, instead of leaving them fall into a state of disrepair.

He has suggested a seven-year tax amnesty on new improvements provided the owner retained title during that period.

While sympathetic to the aims of Mr. Smith, Reeve George Chatterton of Saanich said the proposal is "impractical" because of the present system of raising taxes.

SPECIAL GRANT

The reeve suggested a special homeowners' grant instead.

Equimally Reeve A. C. Wurtelle said Mr. Smith's plan would only complicate the system of collecting taxes.

As it is, he said, the system of collecting taxes is complicated enough.

Reeve George Murdoch of Oak Bay didn't think the municipalities should be made to bear any more.

He said municipalities are already hard enough pressed to raise sufficient revenue to meet their needs, without having another slice taken out of the tax source.

Ald. Arthur Dowell, city finance committee chairman, described the proposal as impractical.

'MOUSETRAP' SCORES 3,000

LONDON (AP)—Agatha Christie's mystery play The Mousetrap, already the longest running production in London theatre history, reached its 3,000th performance Friday.

It opened Nov. 25, 1952. In April, 1958, it topped 2,238 performances and smashed the record previously held by Chu Chin Chow.

Ships Collide

TOKYO (UPI)—The 7,246-ton Greek freighter Niobe collided with and sank the 36-ton Japanese fishing boat Tenshun near Tori Island Sunday, killing at least two and probably six of the Tenshun's crew of 16.

AROUND THE WORLD BY RAIL?

LONDON (Reuters)—A railroad running from London across Europe, Asia and North America to New York has been suggested by a Russian scientific worker.

The proposed line would pass under the English Channel, tunnel through the Himalayan Mountains and cross the Bering Straits from Russia into North America by either a bridge or a tunnel.

Alexander Markin, an employee of the power engineering institute of the Russian Academy of Sciences, discussed the possibility of building this "super trunk-railroad line" in the February issue of the magazine Techniques for Youth. It was reported by the Soviet news agency Tass. Markin said the line should have an extremely wide gauge of 4.5 metres (14 feet, nine inches), compared with the conventional 1.524 metres (five feet). This would increase its carrying capacity 50 or 60 times, he said.

It All Started With a Bottle

A bottle containing a message for Major Frederick Ney, leader of the Commonwealth Youth Movement, was dropped in mid-Atlantic in the summer of 1958.

It was picked up off the coast of Iceland in December, 1959 by Bragi Jonsson, a 60-year-old farmer.

The farmer had the message translated and sent it with an accompanying letter to Major Ney, care of the Royal Commonwealth Society in London, England.

The society forwarded the message and the letter to Major Ney in Winnipeg, and from there it was sent on to him at the Empress Hotel in Victoria.

QUEST

Some 18 months after it was bottled and dropped in the Atlantic Major Ney received the message. It was simply an expression of thanks from a party of young Canadians returning to their homeland after taking part in a Quest to Britain arranged by the Commonwealth Youth Movement.

Major Ney founded the movement in 1937 and ever since he has arranged to exchange visits as Questors (in search of knowledge and understanding).

"I was more than happy to get this message of appreciation," said Major Ney, "and I wanted to thank the Icelandic farmer for sending it on to me."

'Old Master' Shows Heels To Cyclists

Call Ernie Hills "Mr. Motorcycle" and say it respectfully.

He deserves the honor and the title after his masterful motorcycle manipulations Sunday.

Meeting the best available talent, Ernie won the Victoria Motorcycle Club's annual field meet for the fifth time in the last six years.

Riding an AJS Scrambler, Ernie took the slow, stake pursuit and drag races, was second in the scramble to finish well ahead of Wes Morhart. The latter won the scramble, placed second in the pursuit and third in the drag race. Bryan Scharbach was third in the field competition.

By his polished efforts, Hill ranks as the man to beat in the club's 500 scramble—a full day of racing which calls for all riders to use the same class of a machine, a 500CC. They'll scramble in two weeks.

REPEAT SYMPHONY SHOW TONIGHT AT ROYAL

Perfect Wedding of Music, Drama

By AUDREY JOHNSON

It is probably not altogether coincidental that the current pair of Victoria Symphony programs should prove dramatically effective to such a marked degree, not only in content but in the manner of performance.

Dr. Nicholas Goldschmidt, the distinguished guest conductor, is after all, a man to whom the wedding of music and drama is second nature.

He espoused the cause of opera early in his career. Moreover, he has made notable contributions in that field over the past 20 years.

Sunday afternoon the program was premiered at the Royal Theatre where it will be repeated tonight at 8.30.

Made up of three items, the arrangement seemed particularly pleasing and effective. The Weber, "Freischütz" Overture with its pictorial beauty is like a German tapestry depicting "the hunt." It is, indeed, a stage setting but its frenetic climax leaves one breathless for the next act in the drama.

Following this, the Haydn

Spears in 'Rocket'

DALLAS, Texas (AP)—The wife of Robert Vernon Spears said in an interview Saturday night that Spears was involved in a large-scale abortion racket in Los Angeles. She said payoffs were made to police. Spears is the naturopath who has been questioned about the possible bombing of a National Air Lines plane which crashed in the Gulf of Mexico, killing 42 persons.

Symphony No. 96 formed a striking contrast and provided a complete change of mood. With his affectionate and sensitive treatment of this elegant structure, Dr. Goldschmidt revealed a musical intelligence as keenly attuned to lyrical classicism as to the dramatic and modern.

The Cesar Franck D minor Symphony was still another matter. It comes close to being a tone poem, its three movements having clear affinity. Breaks between movements are bridged by unity of theme and relation of thought moving through the contrasting tempos and tonality.

Dr. Goldschmidt's adroit manipulation of the orchestra, the fine, nervous energy which makes him vital at all times and conjures a taut, disciplined but sparkling performance from his musicians, found its complete expression in this work.

QUESTIONS, QUESTIONS, QUESTIONS DURING 'KIBITZERS' DAY' AT GALLERY

Do-it-yourself gleams lighted up in hundreds of eyes Saturday as more than 3,000 persons jammed the Art Gallery of Greater Victoria to watch artists at work. About a third of this number—a record for one day's attendance—were children who watched and listened entranced while artists in a wide variety of media demonstrated their crafts and answered pertinent questions. The sessions occupied three hours of both afternoon and evening and attracted many who had not previously visited the gallery. In every nook and corner, scenes like these above were the order of the day. At left,

Mrs. G. Farquhar shapes a bowl on her potter's wheel, watched by an attentive audience. China painting techniques on green ware are the special skill of Lloyd Sinclair, centre, who has a devoted audience in five-year-old Frank Temple, one of last summer's art students at the gallery. A top spell-

binder among the working artists was Mungo Martin, right, Victoria's famed Indian carver of totem poles. Mr. Martin's experienced knife is here chiselling out a traditional mask under the fascinated eyes of kibitzers of all ages.—(Photos by Jorgen Svendsen.)

MONTE ROBERTS

Wayne and Schuster are not only just about everybody's favorite television comedians (including mine), they also conduct an excellent Old-Jokes-at-Home-type column which appears each Saturday in this newspaper.

Therefore, I umblily beg their pardon before suggesting that an Old Joke printed Saturday could stand a little polishing.

The old joke, they said, was good because "we like the O. Henry twist."

The joke was the one about the stockbroker who fell in love with a night club dancer, wanted to marry her, but was afraid she might not be good enough to be the mother of his children.

So he hired a private detective to investigate, and in due course received this report:

"The young lady has a wonderful reputation. She comes from an excellent family, has a great education background and her conduct has always been on the highest moral plane. Her friends have always spoken highly of her until two weeks ago. At that time she began running around with a stockbroker of questionable character."

All well and good, W. and S. But O. Henry would never have been satisfied with ONE little twist.

What O. Henry would have done is have the stockbroker pay the detective a retainer of $1,000, and agree to pay a further $1,000 fee if the report were satisfactory.

And in due course, he would have received the following report:

"The young lady has a wonderful reputation. She comes from an excellent family, has a great education background and her conduct has always been on the highest moral plane."

"Two weeks ago her rich uncle died, leaving her $4,000,000, a skiling lodge in the Laurentians, a town house in Toronto, a stable of 80 winning race horses, a yacht, and a villa on the Riviera."

"We have decided to spend part of our honeymoon on the yacht, the rest on the Riviera."

"As you must agree this is a most satisfactory report, do not forget you still owe me $1,000."

SAME FOR ALL

'Limited' God Belief Wrong Says Bishop

There is too much belief in a "limited" God due to lack of human understanding of the God-concept, Rt. Rev. Ernest Reed, Anglican bishop of Ottawa, said here today.

"Many persons believe in an English-speaking God, and fundamentally don't consider Him as the same God for the Russians or Chinese."

Most persons today believe in God, he said, but "what kind of a God" is another thing.

Therefore, theological considerations should deal with the nature of God "as the significant question."

8 P.M. DAILY

Bishop Reed is here for a week-long preaching mission at Christ Church Cathedral. He will speak at 8 p.m. daily excepting a Sunday address at 11 a.m.

A Chinese religious calendar could well portray Jesus with slant eyes, he said, "but having done this we must realize He is more international than that conception."

Anglicanism throughout the world had broadened its outlook the past 200 years from a national to an international church, he said.

"It is no longer restricted to English-speaking people."

At the last Lambeth conference of bishops, 310 bishops represented 46 countries, he said by illustration.

GROWING DESIRE

The bishop said there are fewer militant atheists in the world today as there is a growing desire to find answers to ultimate questions.

Even in the scientific field there is a mounting tendency to recognize both scientific and religious fields of thought without the disparity of the 19th century.

'GOD OF SCIENCE'

"It is recognized that God is the God of science as well as of religion."

But nowadays many people "want to be told, to seek an authority" for their religious beliefs and this is "not always good."

"We feel it better for people to think out their own religious beliefs. They should not accept teachings uncritically."

This action of acceptance is based on today's sense of insecurity, he said, "a groping for authority in a confused world of tensions."

24 Chinese Face Charges In Gambling House Raids

STEERING COMMITTEE NAMED FOR UNIFIED FAMILY COURT

Victoria, Saanich and Oak Bay will appoint a steering committee to establish a unified juvenile and family court.

A special meeting today of officials from the four municipalities and deputy attorney-general Dr. Gilbert Kennedy decided this should be the first step.

Esquimalt Reeve A. C. Wurtele said his municipality will not participate in the court but would like to share in the unified probation service and record-keeping.

However, Dr. Kennedy said the probation service is attached to the unified court and it would be excluded in any municipality staying outside of the court set up. View Royal will be included in the court's jurisdiction along with all unorganized territory within the Greater Victoria urban area.

Two Operators Arrested Along With 22 Found-Ins

Twenty-four orientals were arrested by city police early today after the two biggest gambling house raids on Victoria's Chinatown in 25 years.

Two men had bail fixed at $500 after police charged them with keeping common gaming houses.

Twenty-two others, including a woman, were on $25 bail on charges of being found-in.

Twenty, including the alleged operators, appeared in police court represented by solicitors, and all were remanded for plea to March 1.

82 BOOKED

The last big raid recalled by one veteran police sergeant was during the 30s when 82 Chinese were booked into the city jail and police had to find extra blankets for them.

The raids were made by uniformed police at two premises in the 500 block of Fisgard, one block west of police headquarters; one at 12.45 and the second at 12.50.

Jack Jung is charged with keeping a gaming house at the rear of 557 Fisgard. He is represented by Joseph McKenna.

NOT SURE

There was so much confusion in the crowded courtroom when those charged appeared before Magistrate William Ostler that lawyers were not sure which of the alleged found-ins they represented.

Mr. Taylor, for the time at least, represents Louis Jih, Mun Hong, Kurby Lee, Jew Wong, Lim Doung, Kim Jong, Mar Get, Peter Lee, Ma Wei, Grant Yuen, Louis Chor and Rose Lee.

They are charged with being found in at 557 Fisgard.

Mr. McKenna, meanwhile, is acting for Sam Chan, Yennel Lim, Wong Chow and Chow Him. Those who did not appear were Henry Loo, Lee Bark, Lee Ho and Chow How.

These are charged with being found in at 561 Fisgard.

EXHIBITS

Adding to the crowd was an extra-heavy court list and exhibits for the gambling charges.

These include two cloth-topped gambling tables with dealer's slots, a number of high stools and three large pinball machines.

WARMEST CITY

Blue Skies

Bless Day Of Rejoicing

Brilliant sunshine and the warmest weather of the year heightened Victoria's "day of rejoicing" Sunday for the new royal prince.

The day was proclaimed by provincial cabinet and the order signed by Lieut.-Gov. Frank Ross; Attorney-General Robert Bonner and Provincial Secretary Wesley Black.

All city churches marked the occasion for the youngest member of the royal family.

PRAYERS

In Anglican churches special prayers issued by the Archbishop of Canterbury were read at morning and evening services. They gave thanks for the birth of the prince, for Queen Elizabeth, and for the royal family, which now numbers five.

Other congregations, both Roman Catholic and Protestant, prayed for the infant prince in company with others throughout the province.

The balmy day followed a windstorm which reached 68 miles per hour in gusts at 8.45 p.m. Saturday, and 62 miles after midnight. Winds then fell off gradually, until by daylight, the sky was clear and the wind light.

WARMEST CITY

Minimum temperature for the day was 38 degrees and the maximum was 50 degrees, making Victoria Canada's warmest city on Sunday. Oddly enough, the summary for Feb. 21, 1959, was identical—minimum 32, maximum 50, and no rain.

Good weather will continue, according to weatherman William Mackie.

NAVAL SHIP MOVEMENTS

Sussexvale, Stettler, Antigonish, St. Therese return April 22.

Cape Breton returns March 14. Saguenay, Ottawa, St. Laurent return April 29.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

A small flying object which defied identification was seen at 5.10 p.m. Sunday by Mrs. G. Kintoff, 1746 Fort, and her two children as they drove toward Victoria on the Trans-Canada Highway near the Thetis Lake road.

"It glowed like an electric light when it reflected the sun," she said, "and from another angle it appeared rust-colored. It was moving quickly from our right to left, and was too small and too close to be an aircraft."

Richard McKenney, 49, of 658 Niagara, was taken to Jubilee Hospital with chest injury when he fell about 10 feet from a porch at 915 McClure at 10.25 a.m. today.

Police said McKenney was carrying a folding bed from the house at that address when a porch rail gave way against his weight, tumbling him to the ground.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. Could you tell me what day Jan. 2, 1931 fell on? I think it was Saturday, but I'm not sure. It was my birthday.—O.A.

A. It was Friday.

Q. Could you please tell me where one could write to apply for a job as a stenographer or secretary for the Canadian Government in a foreign country?—L.C.

A. About once weekly, usually on weekends, a long list of jobs open in the federal civil service are listed in the newspapers. Often there are clerical jobs with specific overseas postings mentioned. You may also write the Civil Service Commission, Ottawa, Ont., for information.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to dealers.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

The juvenile detention home directors today submitted a $12,847 budget for 1960 municipal estimates. The proposed total would be split: $8,093 for Victoria; $2,569 for Saanich; $1,284 for Oak Bay; and $899 for Esquimalt.

Persons wishing to help in connection with Colquhoun Junior High PTA "family night jamboree" March 25 are asked to meet at the school Wednesday at 7 p.m.

Further information can be obtained by phoning Mrs. Ada Bone at EV 5-5598.

A pair of 17-year-old Victoria boys were put in Coldharbour Detention Home and charged with joyriding and criminally negligent driving after a five-mile chase by police at speeds up to 85 miles an hour early Sunday.

Police said a car owned by A.G. Holmes, 2141 Crescent, was taken from a Pembroke Street address and was spotted being driven north in the 2100 block Foul Bay at about 2 a.m.

Oak Bay police, assisted by Saanich and city police cars, chased the auto around city, Oak Bay and Saanich streets to where it finally went into a ditch at Cedar Hill and Cedar Glen, near Mount Douglas.

An alleged attempt to burn his house was reported by E. J. Bonfoy, 3119 Cedar Hill, to police Saturday afternoon.

The home owner reported that someone lit a paper that was pushed between porch railings, which were blackened slightly.

A 16-year-old babysitter wearing silk stockings over their faces fought off her attackers when they tried to snatch her purse at Begbie and Pandora at midnight Saturday.

The girl told police at 12.30 a.m. Sunday both young men ran off when she resisted their assault.

She said she was walking to her home on Fernwood when the attack took place.

The Orient and Pacific liner Iberia, properly dressed with all flags flying as a salute to Victoria, picked up her pilot at Brodie Ledge at noon today for her trip to Vancouver.

Skipper of the 30,000-ton ship is Capt. Hooper P. Mallet, who has been named commodore of the Vast O and P fleet.

View of the vessel was obscured slightly by a light haze over Juan de Fuca Strait.

Commodore John Dean, B.C. Coast, welcomed the new merchant commodore to Canadian waters, and sailed to Vancouver in the ship as honored guest.

Dale Tennant, 19, of Brentwood, one of five men hurt in a two-car crash in Esquimalt Friday, is still in "poor" condition with head and chest injuries at St. Joseph's Hospital today.

His companion, William Shanks, 16, of Sidney, previously reported in critical condition now is listed by the hospital as "fair."

Two others believed occupants of Shanks car—which police do not know who was driving—and the driver of the second car had less serious injuries.

A building permit authorizing construction of a $94,740 headquarters for the St. John Ambulance Association was issued at City Hall today.

Farmer Construction Ltd. will build the two-storey concrete building at 941 Pandora.

Members of the building trades have volunteered to help rebuild a three-room cabin for an 82-year-old Saanich pioneer whose home was destroyed by fire. Ed Lohbrunner, president of the Thetis Park Nature Association, said today.

Carpenters, plumbers, bricklayers and bulldozer men have come forward to help the elderly man, he said.

The association has launched a fund campaign to raise money to buy materials for the cabin of Tom Francis, who lost all his possessions in the fire last week.

Donations so far amount to $300.

Fire gutted Mr. Francis' dwelling just six days after he had offered the B.C. parks department his 160 acres of virgin land adjoining Thetis Lake Park. He wants the land incorporated with the park.

"This man deserves all the assistance we can give him," said Mr. Lohbrunner. "He has never accepted charity and offered his valuable property as a park to the government before the fire destroyed his home."

Donations should be sent to Miss M. Meiburn, 2397 Heron Street.

Hard-Working Thief Chops His Way Into Money at City Bottling Works

A safecracker stole exactly $534.08 in a burglary of Victoria Beverages Ltd., 2941 Bridge, sometime after Saturday afternoon.

The loss was discovered by police at 3.20 a.m. today when a front window was noticed standing open.

The exact amount of the loss was known to employees because the weekend cash had already been entered in a bank deposit book for today's banking.

Entry to the building, consisting of a bottling plant and warehouse at the rear and offices in a front corner, was gained by breaking a rear window.

THROUGH BACK

Detectives said the thief tried to go through the front of the office safe, a large, old model with combination lock, but was not successful although the dial was knocked off and hinge pins removed.

Fire Death

Accidental

Says Coroner

Death of Richard Frederick O'Connell, 76, found with his clothes aflame in a downtown hotel room last Wednesday night, was accidental, coroner Dr. E. C. Hart found today after an informal inquiry.

The pensioner was discovered in his Lincoln Hotel room lying against an upset electric hotplate. He was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital with second and third degree burns to the upper body. He died Friday night.

DEAR ABBY . . .

Sure Cures!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR READERS: The following letters came in response to the letter from EXHAUSTED MOTHER whose sons, aged 11 and 14, wet their beds. I received hundreds of letters from readers everywhere. Each assured me that his method worked. Naturally, I can't vouch for any of these suggestions, but I give them to you for what they may be worth.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter wet her bed until I thought I would go out of my mind. A friend of mine told me to give her a nickel box of raisins every night before she went to bed. I did, and believe it or not, it worked like magic.

DEAR ABBY: A retired army officer told my husband about this sure cure for bed-wetters. Sew a wooden block in the back of their pajamas so they can't sleep on their backs. I don't know why it works, but it does.

DEAR ABBY: Our son wet the bed every night until he weighed more than his father. Neither of us could carry him, so we walked him to the bathroom every three hours. Our doctor advised us to cut off his liquids after four o'clock in the afternoon, and give him a little honey before bedtime. It cured him.

DEAR ABBY: For goodness sakes, have EXHAUSTED MOTHER look through the catalogues for one of those electrical devices (there are several on the market) that rings a bell and awakens the child at just the right moment. It worked with mine.

DEAR ABBY: I suppose this will sound like voodoo, but if that mother really wants to help her boys get over bed-wetting, tell her to try this recipe an old Indian woman gave my grandmother: Boil up mag-nolia blossoms with swamp root and cheese-cloth and drink the juice.

DEAR ABBY: When I read about that poor lady whose boys still wet the bed at their ages, my heart went out to her. My son had the same trouble until he was about 15 and, believe me, it was no joke. A friend of mine told me to raise the foot of his bed about six inches. It had something to do with pressure on the bladder. Anyway, I followed her advice and it worked. Tell that lady about it, please.

DEAR ABBY: I think bed-wetting is just a matter of pure and simple laziness. My kids started that foolishness and I just lined them all up before they went to bed and told them that anyone who had this kind of an "accident" had to wash his own sheets. Never had another "accident" since.

DEAR ABBY: Do let exhausted mother know about the value of swimming lessons for children who can't control their bladders at night. There is something about that type of exercise that strengthens the proper muscles. Sincerely, J.M.

Uncommitted Countries of East Need More Help From the West

Countries of the East are not producing enough in most cases to keep ahead of population let alone to provide a reasonable supply of capital for further development, Prof. Neil Swainson reminded a gathering of business and professional women's clubs Saturday evening.

Speaking at annual international banquet of the Victoria BPW Club in Holyrood House, Prof. Swainson, member of Victoria College Faculty, added:

"If the one billion people in these uncommitted, undeveloped countries, are to move toward the western world, a transfusion is needed."

"Governments of the West appear to be agreed on this and on the fact that we must provide it to the tune of at least an extra three billion a year. A decade or two might turn the trick and thereafter these countries would be self-supporting to a degree at least."

The speaker pointed out that the problem facing statesmen now is whether the public of the West will be willing to for get their own selfish, wishes to aid men half way around the world. It has been estimated that one per cent of the West's annual income would do it.

"Plans for this major move are being made now," he said, "along with the plan for selling it to the western world."

Subject of the address was "Bringing Together the Orient and the Occident."

Basic way to bridge the gap, Prof. Swainson believed, is to "be true to the best and noblest in our ethical tradition at home and abroad; to openly espouse it and to demonstrate it in the day to day affairs of our society—for all that we do and say today is under the microscope of an evaluating Orient."

The speaker was introduced by Miss Marjorie Press and thanked by Miss Hilda Hesson. Victoria club president, Miss Ella Brett, presided at the head table and conducted the evening's program. Hostesses at other tables included Mrs. Margaret Benbow, Mrs. Marguerite Laughlin, Mrs. Ruby Masters, Mrs. Bess Smith, Mrs. Lillian Smith, Mrs. Madge Hall, Mrs. Lillian Wright, Mrs. Nell North, Misses Verna Beck, Elizabeth Riddell, Molly Chapple, and Elsie Richardson.

At conclusion of the evening Miss Brett, assisted by Miss Riddell, conducted a candle-lighting ceremony that is traditional in business and professional women's clubs on international night.

Spring Cleaning Made Easy By These Helpful Items!

By PENNY SAVER

If spring cleaning could be eliminated how much more enjoyable these first months of the year would be for Victoria housewives! I haven't any magic formula for accomplishing this but pass on a few suggestions that may help you get through this necessary evil with minimum time and effort.

First, let's follow the example of one well known firm that specializes in house cleaning. Firm uses trisodium phosphate for cleaning painted surfaces and removing grease and oil. Economical, it can be bought at 25 cents a pound. Used in proportion of one tablespoon to a pail of water it will remove dirt with no trouble at all.

Cement floors, too, can be cleaned with this solution. Use a handful of powder in a pail of water and you'll find that stubborn oil marks on a garage floor will give in to this relentless cleaner! Cleaner is also excellent for windows, cutting any greasy film that has accumulated during winter months.

Rugs and furniture upholstery come in for a great deal of attention at this time of year. To get yours looking as fresh as a May morning you couldn't do better than get some of the cleaner that sells for $1.49 a half gallon. This is used in proportion of one part to eight parts of cool water.

Simple to use, there's no rinsing involved. Just apply and let dry!

Painting rooms in your home will be made easier if you have some of the clear plastic drop-sheets that are priced at 98 cents. These are heavy quality and measure eight feet by 12 feet. Apart from saving your floors, they can be used to cover furniture and even used outside the home as protection for shrubs or the children's bicycles.

For information on any of these items give Penny a ring at EV 2-3131.

Brigitte Goes Under Cover

PARIS (Reuters). — Six weeks after the birth of their first child, movie star Brigitte Bardot and actor-husband Jacques Charrier hid somewhere in the Alps today while the French press speculated on an early separation.

Rumors of a possible break-up of the year-old marriage began last week when the weekly France-Dimanche declared the couple was at the winter resort of Chamonix "not for a second honeymoon, but to try to save their threatened happiness."

Jacques, 23, released from a military service on medical grounds last year a month before their son Nicholas' birth, was said to have attempted to persuade his blonde, 25-year-old wife to give up her spectacular career. She refused.

TOO TORRID

French newspapers say Jacques was "furious" at torrid kisses which Brigitte recently exchanged with young actors competing for a coveted role opposite her in her next film, La Verite (Truth).

One of the "possibles" is her former fiance Jean-Louis Trintignant, who was with Brigitte in "Et Dieu Crea la Femme" (And God Created Woman).

Photographs of the young couple taken at Chamonix showed them tense and unsmiling — although some reports said this might have been because Italian photographers had let down the tires of their sports car to give cameramen more time to take pictures.

Newspapers say Brigitte and Jacques had gone to Chamonix to "reflect" but they have had a quarrel — and in any case Brigitte did not like the snow.

After the tire incident they left Chamonix. They were reported to have found a new refuge in the mountains nearby, away from reporters and photographers.

TORONTO (CP)—An Englishman, an American and a Scot got together Sunday and declared Canada has little to fear from heavy United States investment.

The men were members of a panel which wound up the sixth annual Couchiching winter conference in Toronto. Theme of the conference: Is business reshaping society?

Scottish-born Monteath Douglas, Canadian director of the National Industrial Conference Board, said suspicion of the United States is one of the things that holds Canada together.

"The other thing is hatred of Toronto," said English-born T. W. Kent, former editor of the Winnipeg Free Press and now assistant to the president of Montreal Chemical Limited.

Mr. Douglas thought hatred too strong a word. "It is envy," he said.

FREE SUBSIDIARIES

Mr. Kent said most U.S. parent firms did not attempt to run their Canadian subsidiaries.

Mr. Douglas agreed. The biggest subsidiaries often turn around and tell their parent companies what to do with respect to Canadian decisions, he said.

Finally, Adolf Berle, Jr., professor of corporation law at New York's Columbia University, said Canadians often forget 25 per cent of all U.S. export trade comes to Canada.

This represents a substantial U.S. dependence on Canada.

"Each of us has found ourselves intervening in each other's affairs and there's no way out of it."

Turning to state-planned economy, the panel agreed government activity in business affairs is bound to increase although many businessmen think it's a dangerous trend.

HAVE TO BE FORCED

Mr. Berle said business and the profit system are means towards the achievement of an ideal society and business has never done anything to attain this society except when forced.

He hoped big business would stop waging a rearguard war on ideas of planned economy and industrial responsibility.

Saturday, Herbert H. Lank, president of du Pont of Canada Limited, said there was such a thing as free enterprise but many forces, including government through taxes and organized labor, tended to limit the freedom.

Stanley Knowles, executive vice-president of the Canadian Labor Congress, said there are some limitations on private enterprise, but he objected to the "attitude of big business at this conference acting as though they had a divine right."

EX-VICTORIAN

'Big Little' Man Dies In California

A former Victorian, one of the founders of "a battalion of big little men" the Bantams formed in B.C. in the First World War, died Saturday in California.

He was George Gooding, a veteran of the Boer War, who was battalion sergeant-major of the Bantams who went overseas as a fighting unit of small-statured men, and later was split up to bolster other units.

A frequent visitor to Victoria, he had lived in California for many years, more recently at Arroyo Grande.

MERCHANT MAN

In the Second World War he offered his services to the Canadian Army here, and when rejected, joined the U.S. merchant marine and went to sea as an electrician officer on refrigeration ships.

An employee of the B.C. Telephone company before going to California, he is survived by the widow at Arroyo Grande, and two sons, Roy in Los Angeles, and Kenneth in Seattle.

Funeral service is being held in California.

Democrats that he had misled the country on the size of Russia's missile lead, Eisenhower told a press conference last week that this was a "despicable" charge.

He repeated that the U.S. in the years since the Korean war, has created deterrent strength "so powerful as to command and to justify the respect of knowledgeable and unbiased observers here at home and abroad."

"Our many hundreds of air force bombers deployed the world over—each capable of unleashing a frightful destruction—constitute a force far superior to any other, in numbers, in quality and in strategic location of bases."

CHAMBER BRIEF

Victoria Chamber of Commerce, in a six-page brief to the commission, supported the railways' plea for a federal subsidy.

It said the people of British Columbia have been "hard hit" by freight rate increases since 1948 because of the distance from central points of manufacturing and distribution.

The chamber asked the commission to:

1. Devise a non-discriminatory method of imposing freight rate increases.

2. Adjust the level of freight rates to remove the discrimination brought about by continued use of the horizontal percentage increase method.

The chamber urged that the railways should be "free to abandon unprofitable passenger services provided that suitable alternative means of travel is available."

The hearing continued this afternoon.

Money Elected President Of Goat Breeders

Vancouver Island Goat Breeders' Association, at its annual meeting in Victoria, started planning for the annual meeting of the B.C. Goat Breeders' Association, to be held in the Victoria area in April.

Time and places of the meeting are yet to be established.

Officers elected by the Island group were Tom Money, president; Mrs. K. Cronk, vice-president; Mrs. E. Eagle, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. E. Smart and Charles Maule, directors.

The association announced it will continue to support Saanich 4-H Goat Club, and members of the adult Saanich group asked support of a tea to be given by the 4-H club at the Hudson's Bay Company Douglas room Feb. 27, starting at 2.30 p.m.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed. Burial is expected to be here.

WE'LL BE SORRY IF WE DON'T SAYS JAMAICAN OFFICIAL

'Axeman, Spare Those Trees'

Victoria's greatest tourist assets are its natural parks, trees and seafrontage.

That's the opinion of Alex J. Cooper of Jamaica, a top tourist official for the government of the newly-formed Federation of British West Indies.

He's here to discuss tourist problems with city officials and to drum up business for Jamaica.

Bringing with enthusiasm what he saw on a city tour, Mr. Cooper offered some friendly advice to Victorians anxious to expand the tourist trade of South Vancouver Island.

YOU'LL BE SORRY

"Don't allow commercialism to encroach on your beauty spots, parks or cut your trees," he said. "Believe me you will be sorry if you do."

He said whenever Jamaica

sold out to commercial interests, it was sorry for it later.

"So now we have taken steps to prevent the destruction of the natural beauty of the island," he said.

"People do not come here or visit Jamaica to see Danny Kaye, swimming pools, buildings or monuments," he said. "They see those things in their own towns and cities. They want something different in your area is the natural landscape, lakes, trees, all within a stone throw of a city," he added. "So it is with us, too."

IN EASY RANGE

Jet airliners are bringing every country within easy range of the average wage earner, he pointed out. People can be choosier. Tourist trade competition is increasing.

"The things we ignored and took for granted for years after round of percentage increases—watching the erosion of distant markets—because of losses suffered by the railways due to public policy or managerial indiscretion?"

UNDUE BURDEN

"We insist most emphatically that if a subsidy is recommended by this commission to compensate the railways for work done in the public interest, then the shippers, who have borne an undue burden of freight rates, must receive a downward adjustment of rates."

Mr. Bonner emphasized repeatedly that British Columbia is the most distant province from the industrial heart of Canada—a net importer of domestic freight, a good customer of eastern Canadian manufacturing and of prairie agriculture.

"We must pay for our manufactured goods and feed by selling our basic products on the prairie and eastern markets. This has been the development of our domestic trading policy."

"It is our contention that national policy demands the freest possible interchange of goods and services, particularly of basic commodities, within Canada."

"Any other point of view would 'Balkanize' Canada economically."

HELP PGE TOO

Mr. Bonner held that any subsidy given to the national railroads should be given on an equal footing to the Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

"This should be the case whether the subsidy is granted for specific commodities and movements, or for any other purposes such as unremunerative services or a general reduction of rates."

Mr. Bonner said the national rail systems of Canada could not be separated from the political and economic development of Canada.

"It may be that the proceeds from land and minerals acquired as a result of national policies should now be considered as rail income," he said.

"So now we have taken steps to prevent the destruction of the natural beauty of the island," he said.

"People do not come here or visit Jamaica to see Danny Kaye, swimming pools, buildings or monuments," he said. "They see those things in their own towns and cities. They want something different in your area is the natural landscape, lakes, trees, all within a stone throw of a city," he added. "So it is with us, too."

Loggers Offer 3 Ways to Ease Trucking Taxes

A three-point submission asking for reduction of taxes on heavy truck operations in the province was contained today in a brief presented to a Royal Commission on Road User Charges sitting here.

The B.C. Loggers' Association asked that overweight fees be placed on a monthly rather than a mileage basis; that logging access roads be reclassified to permit larger loads in hauling logs, and that charges for crossing highways be eliminated.

The submission, presented by association secretary-manager John N. Burke, was essentially the same as one presented to the provincial cabinet earlier.

Government action to increase taxes on heavy trucking operations followed a royal commission hearing in 1958.

OVERLOOKED

"The effect of road user charges on forest revenues was apparently overlooked by the commission during its first sittings, and was also overlooked when their recommended legislation was enacted," the brief charged.

This, coupled with reduced returns from timber stumpage sales, created "economic problems for the operator."

The brief also opposed cost increases which it said could tend to price forest products out of foreign markets.

Mr. Burke pointed out that 70 per cent of B.C.'s forest products were marketed outside Canada.

Truck operation tax rates in Oregon were considerably less than in B.C., and that state provides the "greatest competition" in U.S. markets—to which 65 per cent of wood and wood products exported from B.C. were destined in 1958.

Brigitte Goes Under Cover

PARIS (Reuters) — Six weeks after the birth of their first child, movie star Brigitte Bardot and actor-husband Jacques Charrier hid somewhere in the Alps today while the French press speculated on an early separation.

Rumors of a possible break-up of the year-old marriage began last week when the weekly France-Dimanche declared the couple was at the winter resort of Chamonix "not for a second honeymoon, but to try to save their threatened happiness."

Jacques, 23, released from army service on medical grounds last year a month before their son, Nicholas' birth, was said to have attempted to persuade his blonde, 25-year-old wife to give up her spectacular career. She refused.

TOO TERRID

French newspapers say Jacques was "furious" at torrid kisses which Brigitte recently

exchanged with young actors competing for a coveted role opposite her in her next film, La Verite (Truth).

One of the "possibles" is her former fiancé Jean-Louis Trintignant, who was with Brigitte in "El Dieu Crea la Femme" (And God Created Woman).

Photographs of the young couple taken at Chamonix showed them tense and unsmiling — although some reports said this might have been because Italian photographers had let down the fires of their sports car to give cameramen more time to take pictures.

Newspapers say Brigitte and Jacques had gone to Chamonix to "reflect" but they have had a quarrel — and in any case Brigitte did not like the snow.

After the tire incident they left Chamonix. They were reported to have found a new refuge in the mountains nearby, away from reporters and photographers.

TORONTO (CP) — An Englishman, an American and a Scot got together Sunday and declared Canada has little to fear from heavy United States investment.

The men were members of a panel which wound up the sixth annual Couchiching winter conference in Toronto. Theme of the conference: Is business reshaping society?

Scottish-born Monteath Douglas, Canadian director of the National Industrial Conference Board, said suspicion of the United States is one of the things that holds Canada together.

"The other thing is hatred of Toronto," said English-born T. W. Kent, former editor of the Winnipeg Free Press and now assistant to the president of Montreal Chemical Limited. Mr. Douglas thought hatred too strong a word. "It is envy," he said.

FREE SUBSIDIARIES
Mr. Kent said, most U.S. parent firms did not attempt to run their Canadian subsidiaries.

Mr. Douglas agreed. The biggest subsidiaries often turn around and tell their parent companies what to do with respect to Canadian decisions, he said.

Finally, Adolf Berle, Jr., professor of corporation law at New York's Columbia University, said Canadians often forget 25 per cent of all U.S. export trade comes to Canada.

This represents a substantial U.S. dependence on Canada.

"Each of us has found ourselves intervening in each other's affairs and there's no way out of it."

Turning to state-planned economy, the panel agreed government activity in business affairs is bound to increase although many businessmen think it's a dangerous trend.

HAVE TO BE FORCED
Mr. Berle said business and the profit system are means towards the achievement of an ideal society and business has never done anything to attain this society except when forced. He hoped big business would stop waging a rear-guard war on ideas of planned economy and industrial responsibility.

Saturday, Herbert H. Lank, president of du Pont of Canada Limited, said there was such a thing as free enterprise but many forces, including government through taxes and organized labor, tended to limit the freedom.

Stanley Knowles, executive vice-president of the Canadian Labor Congress, said there are some limitations on private enterprise, but he objected to the "attitude of big business at this conference acting as though they had a divine right."

'Big Little' Man Dies In California

A former Victorian, one of the founders of "a battalion of big little men" — the Bantams — formed in B.C. in the First World War, died Saturday in California.

He was George Gooding, a veteran of the Boer War, who was battalion sergeant-major of the Bantams who went overseas as a fighting unit of small-statured men, and later was split up to bolster other units.

A frequent visitor to Victoria, he had lived in California for many years, more recently at Arroyo Grande.

MERCHANT MAN
In the Second World War he offered his services to the Canadian Army here, and when rejected, joined the U.S. merchant marine and went to sea as an electrician officer on refrigeration ships.

An employee of the B.C. Telephone company before going to California, he is survived by the widow at Arroyo Grande, and two sons, Roy in Los Angeles, and Kenneth in Seattle.

Funeral service is being held in California.

EISENHOWER

Democrats that he had misled the country on the size of Russia's missile lead; Eisenhower told a press conference last week that this was a "despicable" charge.

He repeated that the U.S. in the years since the Korean war, has created deterrent strength "so powerful as to command and to justify the respect of knowledgeable and unbiased observers here at home and abroad."

"Our many hundreds of air force bombers deployed the world-over — each capable of unleashing a frightful destruction — constitute a force far superior to any other, in numbers, in quality and in strategic location of bases."

CHAMBER BRIEF
Victoria Chamber of Commerce, in a six-page brief to the commission, supported the railways' plea for a federal subsidy.

It said the people of British Columbia have been "hard hit" by freight rate increases since 1948 because of the distance from central points of manufacturing and distribution.

The chamber asked the commission to:

1. Devise a non-discriminatory method of imposing freight rate increases.

2. Adjust the level of freight rates to remove the discrimination brought about by continued use of the horizontal percentage increase method.

The chamber urged that the railways should be "free to abandon unprofitable passenger services provided that suitable alternative means of travel is available."

The hearing continued this afternoon.

Money Elected President Of Goat Breeders

Vancouver Island Goat Breeders' Association, at its annual meeting in Victoria, started planning for the annual meeting of the B.C. Goat Breeders' Association, to be held in the Victoria area in April.

Time and places of the meeting are yet to be established. Officers elected by the association group were Tom Money, president; Mrs. K. Cronk, vice-president; Mrs. E. Eagle, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. E. Smart and Charles Maule, directors.

The association announced it will continue to support Saanich 4-H Goat Club, and members of the adult Saanich group asked support of a tea to be given by the 4-H club at the Hudson's Bay Company Douglas room Feb. 27, starting at 2.30 p.m.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed. Burial is expected to be here.

WE'LL BE SORRY IF WE DON'T SAYS JAMAICAN OFFICIAL

'Axeman, Spare Those Trees'

Victoria's greatest tourist assets are its natural parks, trees and seafrontage.

That's the opinion of Alex J. Cooper of Jamaica, a top tourist official for the government of the newly formed Federation of British West Indies.

He's here to discuss tourist problems with city officials and to drum up business for Jamaica.

Bringing with enthusiasm what he saw on a city tour, Mr. Cooper offered some friendly advice to Victorians anxious to expand the tourist trade of South Vancouver Island.

"YOU'LL BE SORRY"
"Don't allow commercialism to encroach on your beauty spots, parks or cut your trees," he said. "Believe me you will be sorry if you do."

He said whenever Jamaica

after round of percentage increases — watching the erosion of 'distant' markets — because of losses suffered by the railways due to public policy or managerial indiscretion?"

UNDUE BURDEN
"We insist most emphatically that if a subsidy is recommended by this commission to compensate the railways for work done in the public interest, then the shippers, who have borne an undue burden of freight rates, must receive a downward adjustment of rates."

Mr. Bonner emphasized repeatedly that British Columbia is the most distant province from the industrial heart of Canada — a net importer of domestic freight, a good customer of eastern Canadian manufacturing and of prairie agriculture.

"We must pay for our manufactured goods and feed by selling our basic products on the prairie and eastern markets. This has been the development of our domestic trading policy."

"It is our contention that national policy demands the freest possible interchange of goods and services, particularly of basic commodities, within Canada."

"Any other point of view would 'Balkanize' Canada economically."

HELP FGE TOO
Mr. Bonner held that any subsidy given to the national railroads should be given on an equal footing to the Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

"This should be the case whether the subsidy is granted for specific commodities and movements, or for any other purposes such as unremunerative services or a general reduction of rates."

Mr. Bonner said the national rail systems of Canada could not be separated from the political and economic development of Canada.

"It may be that the proceeds from land and minerals acquired as a result of national policies should now be considered as rail income," he said.

Marginal logging operations were also affected, the brief said, as the tax increases would tend to discourage efforts to salvage defective trees.

TOUGHER TERRAIN
"It must be assumed that heavily increased costs are first reflected in abandonment of marginal operations."

Heavy, expensive trucking equipment could not be discarded in B.C. in favor of lighter vehicles as used in Oregon due largely to the tougher terrain, the brief said.

It stated also that public roads used by the logging industry are mostly of "mediocre" quality and vehicles using them should not be subjected to the gross vehicle and axle weight limitation imposed.

Commission chairman is Dr. H. F. Angus and commissioners are Jack Bowring, deputy minister of commercial transport, George Lindsay, superintendent, Motor Vehicles Branch, and William Veitch, deputy finance minister.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Work crews today restored telephone and power lines in the final stages of clearing wreckage left by 70-mile-per-hour winds that lashed the Vancouver area Saturday night.

VANCOUVER — Police are investigating claims by a 22-year-old seaman that he was beaten up on two successive nights by members of a rival waterfront union.

Penuik told police that in each case his attackers were members of the Seafarers' International Union (Ind.), of which he is a former member.

Meanwhile, the managing director of the Gulf of Georgia Towing Company said Saturday his firm received a telephone arson threat, but that it was not greatly concerned over it.

Ray Bicknell said a man called and warned the company to "be careful how you are doing your hiring. There may be some fires started."

CHILD KILLED

PRINCE GEORGE — Gary Lyle Smith, six, was killed Saturday at Giscombe, 24 miles northwest of here, when he fell from a moving truck and the vehicle's rear wheels passed over him. The lad was visiting the sawmill community with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Smith of Burns Lake.

15 DEAD, 45 TRAPPED IN GERMAN MINE BLAST

BERLIN (UPI) — An explosion in an East German coal mine today killed at least 15 miners and trapped 45 others deep below ground. The explosion occurred at Zwickau, when 100 miners were in the shaft during a change in shifts. Forty men were rescued and 15 bodies were recovered.

B.C. Urges Freight Break For Lumber, Farm Produce

A-G Asks Lowest Of Rates

British Columbia's basic commodity, lumber should be given the lowest possible transportation charges consistent with costs, Attorney-General Robert Bonner told a Royal Commission on Transportation sitting in Victoria today.

Mr. Bonner also urged that B.C.'s fruit and vegetable producers should receive "similar assistance" to that enjoyed by producers of the Atlantic provinces and now proposed for grain producers on the Prairies.

In effect, he asked that B.C. shippers should share in the benefits of any federal subsidy given to the national railways—whether the aid is given for Prairie grain shipments, unprofitable passenger trains, uneconomical branch lines, or any other losing rail operations.

(The railways have already asked for a federal subsidy to offset yearly losses on their grain traffic—a subsidy to be paid to the railways but earmarked on behalf of western farmers.)

Under cross-examination by Ian Sinclair, CPR lawyer, Mr. Bonner complained that, under present conditions, it is cheaper for Okanagan growers to ship produce to "a state south of Manitoba and then have it trucked up to Winnipeg than to ship direct to Winnipeg across Canada."

There is something wrong when we have a situation of that kind," he said.

In his dual capacity of minister of industrial development, trade and commerce, Mr. Bonner addressed the six-man transport commission at its one-day hearing in the Empress Hotel.

A detailed 72-page submission on behalf of the B.C. government was then read to the commission.

SET UP IN MAY
The commission was set up last May to investigate problems of Canada's railways and the impact of freight rates on various regions from coast to coast.

Under the chairmanship of Regina lawyer M. A. MacInneson, it has already sat in Quebec City, Montreal, Winnipeg, Regina and Edmonton, and will hold a further hearing in Vancouver Tuesday.

Herbert Anscomb, of Victoria, a former B.C. finance minister, is one of the commissioners.

Mr. Bonner argued that B.C. should receive a general freight rate reduction if the railways receive federal government aid.

"If the railways are to get money from the taxpayer's pocket," he said, "what about the shipper who has paid round

Guess who? Four City Hall employees — their faces blacked out to protect them—are shown examining the bust of Queen Elizabeth today after it was returned to its temporary resting place in the lobby. City Hall was gripped in a cloak and dagger atmosphere as bust was moved, minutes later, into the city clerk's private office where it can be kept under lock and key; and Ald. M. H. Mooney, parks chairman, issued a stern directive to department heads forbidding employees to allow pictures or "undue" discussion of the statue. Alderman attacked "childish" prank and subsequent publicity.

IT'S BACK BUT NO ARRESTS

'Crash Program' To Install Bust

By JOHN MIKA

A "crash program" to erect the bust of Queen Elizabeth in Beacon Hill Park was ordered today after the concrete statue was returned to City Hall.

The 750-pound work by sculptress Peggy Walton Packard was found about 2:30 a.m. Sunday outside the replica of Anne Hathaway's cottage on the grounds of the Olde England Inn in Esquimalt.

NO ARRESTS
Police and City Hall officials said there were no arrests scheduled.

Police Chief John Blackstock would not confirm reports that police knew who had spirited away the bust from the City Hall lobby Thursday night.

But there was apparent agreement on all sides that it was a college prank.

However, special measures were taken at City Hall to prevent a second disappearance and further publicity by ringing down a curtain of silence around the bust.

NO PICTURES

In an unusual step, parks chairman Ald. M. H. Mooney issued a verbal directive to the City Hall staff to ban pictures being taken of the bust or discuss the disappearance with reporters.

The statue also was shunted into the closed private office of city clerk Frank Hunter a few minutes after it was set up in the City Hall lobby on the spot from which it was swiped.

Workmen will begin construction of a landscaped setting for the statue this week in Beacon Hill Park on the slope opposite the Burns' statue. The bust probably will be in place within a fortnight.

The site will consist of a 25-foot low wall, with stone facing, shaped in an arc around the statue. A landscaped floral setting will back it up.

When the statue is erected, it will end months of delay which resulted in debate within intermunicipal committee, city council and parks committee over cost and location.

But Acting Mayor Arthur Dowell described the final episode—leading to action as a "college prank which developed into an unhappy mockery of our Queen."

"I'm surprised that students of higher learning should resort to such tactics."

Then, in an after-thought typical of all comments on the incident, he added: "If it was the university students, that is."

He said the incident would be discussed at the next police commission meeting.

Ald. Mooney, who was acting mayor during the bust's disappearance, commented:

"I'm glad it's back. I believe it was a prank by people unknown. But it's all over now."

Similar sentiments were expressed by University of Victoria vice-principal Robert Wallace and student council president Marilyn Ardley.

COL. VICTOR SPENCER

'ROMANTIC, SPECTACULAR CITIZEN'

VANCOUVER (CP)—Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross said today British Columbia lost a "romantic, spectacular and most distinguished citizen" in the death of Victor Spencer.

In a telephone interview from Pasadena, Calif., where he was holidaying with Col. Spencer, Mr. Ross said he could not discuss the matter because he felt the death very deeply.

SON OF PIONEER

Colonel Spencer Dies on Holiday

VANCOUVER (CP) — Col. Victor Spencer, 77, son of a pioneer merchandising family and prominent cattle and businessman, died Sunday while holidaying in United States.

He died in his sleep at a Pasadena, Calif., hotel. His daughter, Barbara, and Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross of British Columbia, a long and intimate companion, were with him at his death.

Col. Spencer and his daughter travelled to Pasadena one week ago and were joined Saturday by Mr. Ross.

Born in Victoria in 1882, Col. Spencer was the fifth son of Mr. and Mrs. David Spencer, pioneer merchants. He spent his boyhood there, but before he was 18 enlisted as a trooper with a Canadian army contingent recruited for the Boer War in South Africa.

He returned to take advantage of an ex-servicemen's land grant, designed to open up B.C.'s rangeland, and got his first experience in cattle ranching.

FULL-TIME

In years prior to the First World War he was also on the full-time staff of the family's David Spencer Limited stores and worked his way to executive positions.

During the First World War he fought in major campaigns in Europe and rose to rank of lieutenant-colonel. On his return he was promoted to colonel.

Rockets To Planets Next: Mr. K

SURABAYA, Indonesia (Reuters)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today that powerful new rockets tested recently by Russia will be used for flights to the planets and for launching a heavy earth satellite.

Khrushchev, on a 12-day visit to Indonesia, told a welcoming rally here that the tests of the new rockets, carried out late in January in the Pacific, had produced "good results."

Soldiers with leveled bayonets drove back wildly cheering crowd of 20,000 workers and youths as they surged forward and nearly broke down a wire fence between them and the rostrum from which Khrushchev spoke.

He described the rockets as "tremendous" and said they "will be used for flights to planets and for launching a heavy sputnik."

Khrushchev said Russia was nearing the day when it would get "complete facts about the moon, Mars, Venus and other planets of our solar system."

OVERTAKING U.S.
He also told a mass rally in this strongly Communist dockyard city that Russia would overtake the United States in industrial and agricultural production by 1965.

Khrushchev, making his last major speech before beginning three days of quiet talks with Indonesian leaders, told a rally in the sports stadium here that reforms are needed if Indonesia wants to attain economic freedom.

"To perpetuate the political freedom already achieved, it is necessary to achieve economic freedom, mainly by conducting firm retooling in society, because colonialism is not only political slavery but also present in the economic and social fields."

MUST END COLONIALISM

"Rooting out colonialism in the economic field and promoting the economy, paying attention to national interests, is a very heavy and vital task, but its settlement cannot be delayed," Khrushchev said.

"This task is being faced by Indonesia now and by other former colonial countries."

"With open heart the Soviet Union is prepared to give aid to Eastern countries—not only political and moral aid but also material support which has grown year by year."

LIKE MARATHON

Khrushchev said Russia's economic competition with the U.S. could "now apparently be described as a marathon."

"We have to pursue the United States... because the United States started earlier. But the style in which the United States runs has made its breathing very difficult."

DOOMED ATOM TOWN PRAYS

ELLIOTT LAKE, Ont. (CP) — Congregations at 10 churches in this Northern Ontario mining centre heard special prayers Sunday concerning the area's plight arising from the proposed closing of four of the six uranium mines in the district. About 4,000 of the 4,800 miners are to lose their jobs within 18 months.

Some clergymen mentioned the federal government's plan to build a second nuclear research centre in Manitoba and asked it be located here to help solve the unemployment problem.

Rev. Howard Staples of Elliott Lake Baptist Church prayed for God "to bring influence to bear on those in high places to locate the research centre here."

MIXED WELCOME AT FIRST IKE STOP

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UPI) — Rival factions shouting "We Like Ike" and others demanding Puerto Rican independence greeted President Eisenhower today on the safe completion of the first leg of his 15,000-mile Latin American tour.

A strong police guard separated the rival demonstrators and kept them four to five hundred feet distant from the landing strip at San Juan airport.

In his remarks here, the president cited Puerto Rico as an outstanding example of the benefits to be gained in co-operation with the United States.

Might of U.S. Indestructible Safeguard---Ike

WASHINGTON (CP) — President Eisenhower described United States military might Sunday as "an indestructible force of incalculable power."

He assured the free world that through this power—sharply criticized by the Democratic party—"all of us can stand resolute and unafraid—confident in America's might as an anchor of free world security."

Eisenhower spoke in a national radio and television broadcast on the eve of his 15,000-mile trip to four South American countries—Brazil, Argentina, Chile and Uruguay. He appealed to Latin Americans not to believe Communist charges that the U.S. is holding Latin America in a colonial relationship.

The U.S. wants to foster the "triumph of human liberty" throughout the Western hemisphere; to help raise living standards among the Latin and to "condemn all efforts to undermine the democratic institutions of the Americas through coercion or subversion."

They are in the building of a universal peace with justice."

While much of Eisenhower's speech dealt with problems of Latin America, he used the broadcast as a vehicle to defend his military policies against attack within his own country.

KILLER FLU CLAIMS 33 IN ASYLUM EPIDEMIC

PONTEVICO, Italy (UPI)—A deadly influenza epidemic raged through an asylum for insane women today. Thirty-three of the elderly inmates have already died and at least 10 of the 60 women in the infirmary are in critical condition.

Many more of the 500 inmates of the insane asylum, housed in an old castle, are in danger of coming down with the virus.

"Most of the victims had to be fed like babies for several years," an asylum official said. "Others were unable to walk or to have any kind of normal life. They were old and weak, and the virus infection which caused this epidemic found a very easy ground."

Accountants Ask Taxation Probe

OTTAWA (CP)—A royal commission study of double taxation was recommended today by the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants and the Canadian Bar Association in their annual joint submission to the federal government.

The recommendation referred in part to the broad picture of corporate taxation, wherein earnings are taxed first in the hands of a company and again in the hands of shareholders.

It also referred to particular aspects of taxation, such as the provisions covering the distribution to shareholders of earnings which a company has retained or accumulated over a period of years—commonly known as surplus.

Austria Nazis Linked To U.S. Ku Klux Klan

VIENNA (AP)—Austrian police announced Sunday that a secret Nazi underground group uncovered here had close links with the Ku Klux Klan of the United States and an international Fascist movement with headquarters in Sweden. Three leaders of the group were arrested on charges of neo-Nazi activities.

A police spokesman said large quantities of anti-semitic propaganda seized during a police raid on a Vienna printing plant had been shipped to Austria from the United States and Sweden.

Part of the material—anti-semitic pamphlets, drawings and posters—bore the inscription "Ku Klux Klan of America" the spokesman said. Some were marked "printed by the white brotherhood," said to be an European branch of the Klan. Other books and pamphlets were printed in Malmö, Sweden, by the Fascist "social European movement," the spokesman said.

The underground group served as "cover-up" for six outlawed Austrian Nazi organizations, he said.

Those arrested were Alfred Honkisz, 33, owner of the printing plant; Herbert Drexler, 25, a university student, and Miss Heidi Süssmayr, 22, also a student. Police said all three have records of neo-Nazi activity.

NATIVE DAUGHTER'S BEEN AROUND

The Lady Who's Known as 'Rog'

By MONTE ROBERTS

A native daughter of Victoria returned home over the weekend after many years and thousands of miles of journeying around the world.

She is now a citizen of Yugoslavia, by reason of a brief ceremony in the registry office, and an official listing in Lloyd's of London.

The native daughter was first known here as Fort Berens. Later she became Mission Park, then Ottawa Valley. And she returns bearing the terse, monosyllabic moniker: Rog.

IN 10 MONTHS

In the hurry-up tradition of the war, the keel of Rog—to use her current name—was laid on April 10, 1944, and she was in service 10 months later.

So VMD built her in a hurry, but they built her to last.

Those who saw the "lady who's known as Rog" at the Ogden Point dock of Victoria Elevators will agree she's showing a few wrinkles of age, and no doubt feels the odd ache and rattle inside.

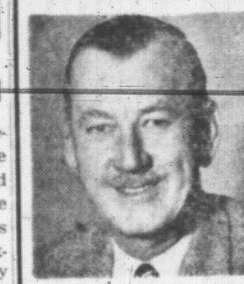

But, with 15 years of honest steaming under her keel, she's 100A1 at Lloyd's, a tribute to her builders, and a native daughter of whom every Victorian can well be proud.

Quake Levels Algeria Towns

ALGIERS, Algeria (CP)—Forty-six persons, mainly women and children, were killed and 88 injured Sunday when two villages 90 miles south of Algeria were hit by three earthquakes in less than three hours.

Both villages—Melouza and Beni-Hilmane—were devastated by quakes 12 years ago.

About 100 of the 300 houses in Beni-Hilmane were destroyed and the rest damaged badly, rescue workers reported.

A helicopter pilot who flew over Melouza described it as "a heap of earth and dust."

Reports from Beni-Hilmane said 15 of the dead were children who were in the village school when the quakes hit. Most of the other victims were women. The men were out at work at the time.

One survivor said: "I thought the mountain on the side of which the villages are built had exploded."

French troops were flown into the area as soon as reports of the quake were received. Many of the injured were flown to hospital in Setif, 185 miles from here.

Many of the victims Sunday were among about 100 families believed to have been moved into Melouza after Algerian insurgents massacred the village's 300 inhabitants three years ago for supporting a rival nationalist movement.

QUESTIONS, QUESTIONS, QUESTIONS DURING 'KIBITZERS' DAY' AT GALLERY

Do-it-yourself gleams lighted up in hundreds of eyes Saturday as more than 3,000 persons jammed the Art Gallery of Greater Victoria to watch 'artists at work.' About a third of this number—a record for one day's attendance—were children who watched and listened entranced while artists in a wide variety of media demonstrated their crafts and answered pertinent questions. The sessions occupied three hours of both afternoon and evening and attracted many who had not previously visited the gallery. In every nook and corner, scenes like these above were the order of the day. At left,

Mrs. G. Farquhar shapes a bowl on her potter's wheel, watched by an attentive audience. China painting techniques on green ware are the special skill of Lloyd Sinclair, centre, who has a devoted audience in five-year-old Frank Temple, one of last summer's art students at the gallery. A top spell-

binder among the working artists was Mungo Martin, right, Victoria's famed Indian carver of totem poles. Mr. Martin's experienced knife is here chiseling out a traditional mask under the fascinated eyes of kibitzers of all ages.—(Photos by Jorgen Svendsen.)

MONTE ROBERTS

Wayne and Schuster are not only just about everybody's favorite television comedians (including mine), they also conduct an excellent Old Jokes-at-Home-type column which appears each Saturday in this newspaper.

Therefore, I humbly beg your pardon before suggesting that an Old Joke printed Saturday could stand a little polishing.

The old joke, they said, was good because "we like the O. Henry twist."

The joke was the one about the stockbroker who fell in love with a night club dancer, wanted to marry her, but was afraid she might not be good enough to be the mother of his children.

So he hired a private detective to investigate, and in due course received this report:

"The young lady has a wonderful reputation. She comes from an excellent family, has a great education background and her conduct has always been on the highest moral plane. Her friends have always spoken highly of her until two weeks ago. At that time she began running around with a stockbroker of questionable character."

All well and good, W. and S. But O. Henry would never have been satisfied with ONE little twist.

What O. Henry would have done is have the stockbroker pay the detective a retainer of $1,000, and agree to pay a further $1,000 fee if the report were satisfactory.

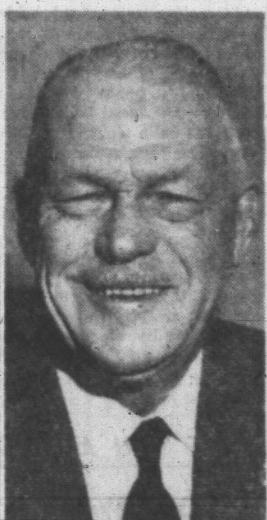

And in due course, he would have received the following report:

"The young lady has a wonderful reputation. She comes from an excellent family, has a great education background and her conduct has always been on the highest moral plane."

"Two weeks ago her rich uncle died, leaving her $4,000,000, a skiing lodge in the Laurentians, a town house in Toronto, a stable of 80 winning race horses, a yacht, and a villa on the Riviera."

"We have decided to spend part of our honeymoon on the yacht, the rest on the Riviera."

"As you must agree this is a most satisfactory report, do not forget you still owe me $1,000."

SAME FOR ALL

'Limited' God Belief Wrong Says Bishop

There is too much belief in a "limited" God due to lack of human understanding of the God-concept, Rt. Rev. Ernest Reed, Anglican bishop of Ottawa, said here today.

"Many persons believe in an English-speaking God, and fundamentally don't consider Him as the same God for the Russians or Chinese."

Most persons today believe in God, he said, but "what kind of a God" is another thing.

Therefore, theological considerations should deal with the nature of God "as the significant concept."

8 P.M. DAILY

Bishop Reed is here for a week-long preaching mission at Christ Church Cathedral. He will speak at 8 p.m. daily excepting a Sunday address at 11 a.m.

A Chinese religious calendar could well portray Jesus with slant eyes, he said, "but having done this we must realize He is more international than that conception."

Anglicanism throughout the world has broadened its outlook the past 200 years from a national to an international church, he said.

"It is no longer restricted to English-speaking people."

GROWING DESIRE

The bishop said there are fewer militant atheists in the world today as there is a growing desire to find answers to ultimate questions.

Even in the scientific field there is a mounting tendency to recognize both scientific and religious fields of thought without the disparity of the 19th century.

'GOD OF SCIENCE'

"It is recognized that God is the God of science as well as of religion."

But nowadays many people "want to be told, to seek an authority" for their religious beliefs and this is "not always good."

"We feel it better for people to think out their own religious beliefs. They should not accept teachings uncritically."

This action of acceptance is based on today's sense of insecurity, he said, "a groping for authority in a confused world of tensions."

The bishop is also addressing a children's mission at 4 p.m. daily through Friday in James Bay Hall.

"The Cathedral mission is open to anyone as it is 'our hope that doubts about the Christian faith be helped.'"

STEERING COMMITTEE NAMED FOR UNIFIED FAMILY COURT

Victoria, Saanich and Oak Bay will appoint a steering committee to establish a unified juvenile and family court.

A special meeting today of officials from the four municipalities and deputy attorney-general Dr. Gilbert Kennedy decided this should be the first step.

Esquimalt Reeve A. C. Wurtele said his municipality will not participate in the court but would like to share in the unified probation service and record-keeping.

However, Dr. Kennedy said the probation service is attached to the unified court and it would be excluded in any municipality staying outside of the court set up.

View Royal will be included in the court's jurisdiction along with all unorganized territory within the Greater Victoria urban area.

Along With 22 Found-Ins Two Operators Arrested

Twenty-four orientals were arrested by city police early today after the two biggest gambling house raids on Victoria's Chinatown in 25 years.

Two men had bail fixed at $500 after police charged them with keeping common gaming houses.

Twenty-two others, including a woman, were on $25 bail on charges of being found-in.

Twenty, including the alleged operators, appeared in police court represented by solicitors, and all were remanded for plea to March 1.

82 BOOKED

The last big raid recalled by one veteran police sergeant was during the 30s when 82 Chinese were booked into the city jail and police had to find extra blankets for them.

The raids were made by uniformed police at two premises in the 500-block of Fisgard, one block west of police headquarters; one at 1245 and the second at 1250.

Jack Jung is charged with keeping a gaming house at the rear of 557 Fisgard. He is represented by Joseph McKenna.

NOT SURE

There was so much confusion in the crowded courtroom when those charged appeared before Magistrate William Ostler that lawyers were not sure which of the alleged found-ins they represented.

Mr. Taylor, for the time at least, represents Louis Jim, Mun Hong, Kurby Lee, Jew Wong, Lim Doung, Kim Jong, Mar Get, Peter Lee, Ma Wei, Grant Yuen, Louis Chor and Rose Lee.

They are charged with being found in at 557 Fisgard.

Mr. McKenna, meanwhile, is acting for Sam Chan, Yennei Lim, Wong Chow and Chow Him. Those who did not appear were Henry Lou, Lee Bark, Lee Ho and Chow How.

These are charged with being found in at 561 Fisgard.

EXHIBITS

Adding to the crowd was an extra-heavy court list and exhibits for the gambling charges.

These include two clothed gambling tables with dealer's slots, a number of high stools and three large pinball machines.

LEGISLATURE SPEAKERS

First speaker in the legislature Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock will be Agriculture Minister Newton P. Steacy. Listed to follow him are Mrs. Lois Haggan (CCF, Grand Forks-Greenwood), W. C. Speare (SC, Cariboo), A. S. Matthew (SC, Vancouver Centre), and R. O. Newton (SC, Columbia).

WARMEST CITY

Blue Skies Bless Day

Of Rejoicing

Brilliant sunshine and the warmest weather of the year heightened Victoria's "day of rejoicing" Sunday for the new royal prince.

The day was proclaimed by provincial cabinet and the order signed by Lieut.-Gov. Frank Ross, Attorney-General Robert Bonner and Provincial Secretary Wesley Black.

All city churches marked the occasion for the youngest member of the royal family.

PRAYERS

In Anglican churches special prayers issued by the Archbishop of Canterbury were read at morning and evening services. They gave thanks for the birth of the prince, for Queen Elizabeth, and for the royal family, which now numbers five.

Other congregations, both Roman Catholic and Protestant, prayed for the infant prince in company with others throughout the province.

The balmy day followed a windstorm which reached 68 miles per hour in gusts at 8:45 p.m. Saturday, and 62 miles after midnight. Winds then fell off gradually, until by daylight the sky was clear and the wind light.

Good weather will continue, according to weathermen, William Mackie.

Minimum temperature for the day was 38 degrees and the maximum was 50 degrees, making Victoria Canada's warmest city on Sunday. Oddly enough, the summary for Feb. 21, 1959, was identical—minimum 32, maximum 50, and no rain.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

A small flying object which defied identification was seen at 3:10 p.m. Sunday by Mrs. G. Kintoff, 1746 Fort, and her two children as they drove toward Victoria on the Trans-Canada Highway near the Thetis Lake road.

"It glowed like an electric light when it reflected the sun," she said, "and from another angle it appeared rust-colored. It was moving quickly from out right to left, and was too small and too close to be an aircraft."

Persons wishing to help in connection with Colquitz Junior High PTA "family night jamboree" March 25 are asked to meet at the school Wednesday at 7 p.m.

Further information can be obtained by phoning Mrs. Ada Bone at EV 5-5598.

A pair of 17-year-old Victoria boys were put in Cold Harbor Detention Home and charged with joyriding and criminally negligent driving after a five-mile chase by police at speeds up to 85 miles an hour early Sunday.

Police said a car owned by A. G. Holmes, 2141 Crescent, was taken from a Pembroke Street address and was spotted being driven north in the 2100 block Foul Bay at about 2 a.m.

Oak Bay police, assisted by Saanich and city police cars, chased the auto around city, Oak Bay and Saanich streets to where it finally went into a ditch at Cedar Hill and Cedar-glen, near Mount Douglas.

An alleged attempt to burn his house was reported by E. J. Bonfoy, 3119 Cedar Hill, to police Saturday afternoon.

The home owner reported that someone lighted a paper that was pushed between porch railings, which were blackened slightly.

A 16-year-old babysitter accosted by two youths wearing silk stockings over their faces fought off her attackers when they tried to snatch her purse at Begbie and Pandora at midnight Saturday.

The girl told police at 12:30 a.m. Sunday both young men ran off when she resisted their assault.

She said she was walking to her home on Fernwood when the attack took place.

Members of the building trades have volunteered to help rebuild a three-room cabin for an 82-year-old Saanich pioneer whose home was destroyed by fire. Ed Lohbrunner, president of the Thetis Park Nature Association, said today.

Carpenters, plumbers, brick-layers and builder men have come forward to help the elderly man, he said.

The association has launched a fund campaign to raise money to buy materials for the cabin of Tom Francis, who lost all his possessions in the fire last week.

Donations so far amount to $300.

"Fire gutted Mr. Francis' dwelling just six days after he had offered the B.C. parks department his 160 acres of virgin land adjoining Thetis Lake Park. He wants the land incorporated with the park."

"This man deserves all the assistance we can give him."

He has never accepted charity and offered his valuable property as a park to the government before the fire destroyed his home.

Hard-Working Thief Chops His Way Into Money at City Bottling Works

A safecracker stole exactly $534.08 in a burglary of Victoria Beverages Ltd., 2941 Bridge, sometime after Saturday afternoon.

The loss was discovered by police at 3:20 a.m. today when a front window was noticed standing open.

The exact amount of the loss was known to employees because the weekend cash had already been entered in a bank deposit book for today's banking.

THROUGH BACK

Detectives said the thief tried to go through the front of the office safe, a large, old model with combination lock, but was not successful although the dial was knocked off and hinge pins removed.

RCMP SAID TWO BOYS

RCMP said two boys were arrested in a summer home at noon Sunday, and that a large amount of stolen goods were found. It included an outboard motor, guns, electric razor, canned food, blankets, and other items.

The two apparently had been living in a home on an island in the lake for about a week. One of them appeared in court at Shawnigan Lake today but was remanded to a later date.

Eight homes were entered. Police have names of the owners, and will be in touch with them within the next two days to have them identify the articles recovered.

'Crash Program' To Install Bust

By JOHN MIKA

A "crash program" to erect the bust of Queen Elizabeth in Beacon Hill Park was ordered today after the concrete statue was returned to City Hall.

The 750-pound work by sculptress Peggy Walton Packard was found about 2.30 a.m. Sunday outside the replica of Anne Hathaway's cottage on the grounds of the Olde England Inn in Esquimalt.

NO ARRESTS

Police and City Hall officials said there were no arrests scheduled.

Police Chief John Blackstock would not confirm reports that police knew who had spirited away the bust from the City Hall lobby Thursday night.

But there was apparent agreement on all sides that it was a college prank.

A telephone tip to a radio station Saturday night said the statue would be left in Beacon Hill Park at 1 a.m. It finally was found after four youths visited a newspaper office to give its actual location.

Special measures were taken at City Hall to prevent a second disappearance and further publicity by ringing down a curtain of silence around the bust.

NO PICTURES

In an unusual step, parks chairman Ald. M. H. Mooney issued a verbal directive to the City Hall staff to ban pictures being taken of the bust or discuss the disappearance with reporters.

The statue also was shunted into the closed private office of city clerk Frank Hunter a few minutes after it was set up in the City Hall lobby on the spot from which it was swiped.

Workmen will begin construction of a landscaped setting for the statue this week in Beacon Hill Park on the slope opposite the Burns' statue. The bust probably will be in place within a fortnight.

The site will consist of a 25-foot low wall, with stone facing, shaped in an arc around the statue. A landscaped floral setting will back it up.

When the statue is erected, it will end months of delay which resulted in debate within intermunicipal committee, city council and parks committee over cost and location.

But Acting Mayor Arthur Dowell described the final episode leading to action as a "college prank which developed into an unhappy mockery of our Queen."

"I'm surprised that students of higher learning should resort to such tactics."

Then, in an after-thought typical of all comments on the incident, he added: "If it was the university students, that is."

He said the incident would be discussed at the next police commission meeting.

Ald. Mooney, who was acting mayor during the bust's disappearance, commented:

"I'm glad it's back. I believe it was a prank by people unknown. But it's all over now."

Mailman Olympic Ski Champ

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (UPI)—A German mailman, a Russian school teacher and a French hotelman won gold medals in the Winter Olympics today while Carol Heiss of New York all but clinched the women's figure skating championship.

George Thoma, who practices while he works because he delivers mail on skis during the winter time, won the Nordic combined skiing title; Klara Gusev won the ladies' 1,000-metre speed skating to give Russia its second gold medal in that sport; and Jean Vaurant, who runs a hotel in Tunis, captured the men's glimor event, the downhill ski title.

Only Miss Heiss kept the day from being a complete European triumph. She had piled up such a commanding lead at the finish of the five compulsory figures that she would have to fall down, perhaps several times, in Tuesday's free skating to lose out.

Canada's Clarence Servold of Camrose, Alta.—half of the brother team of Irvin and Clarence Servold—finished second in the cross-country half of the Nordic combined event, the 10-kilometre ski race. He was just 20 seconds behind the winner, Nicolai Guskov. However, Servold was 32nd in the ski jumping half of the Nordic combined and finished 28th over-all. Thoma placed fourth in the cross-country.

MIXED WELCOME AT FIRST IKE STOP

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UPI)—Rival factions shouting "We Like Ike" and others demanding Puerto Rican independence greeted President Eisenhower today on the safe completion of the first leg of his 15,000-mile Latin American tour.

A strong police guard separated the rival demonstrators and kept them four to five hundred feet distant from the landing strip at San Juan airport.

In his remarks here, the president cited Puerto Rico as an outstanding example of the benefits to be gained in co-operation with the United States.

FROM $11 TO $38.90 MORE

Breakdown Given On Welfare Hike

Increases in social welfare allowances, effective April 1, will total $11 a month for single persons and $17.30 a month for a man and wife or mother and child.

Welfare Minister Wesley Black announced in the legislature this afternoon the increases will affect all social allowance cases and the needy aged and handicapped groups. He was giving details of the increases announced in the budget speech Feb. 12.

In regard to social assistance cases, he said, "presently a single person can receive up to a maximum of $55 a month. Under the new rate this will become $66 a month, or an increase of $11."

TO $103.80

"In the case of man and wife in need, or a mother and child receiving $86.50 per month, as from April 1, 1960, this will be increased to $103.80 per month—an increase of $17.30."

"A man and wife and three children or a mother with four children, receiving $140.50 will be increased to $168.50, an increase of $28.10. For a family group of eight, the rate now will be $233.50 per month, which is an increase of $38.90 over the former maximum allowance."

FOUR TIMES

Mr. Black went on to say these rates have been increased four times since his government took office.

"With respect to supplementary allowance paid to the aged and the handicapped... there will be a 20 per cent increase... in other words, all persons in receipt of the maximum of $20 per month will receive $24 per month—or an increase of $4 per year," the minister added.

CITY HALL GOES PICTURE SHY

Guess who? Four City Hall employees—their faces blacked out to protect them—are shown examining the bust of Queen Elizabeth today after it was returned to its temporary resting place in the lobby. City Hall was gripped in a cloak and dagger atmosphere as bust was moved, minutes later, into the city clerk's private office where it can be kept under lock and key; and Ald. M. H. Mooney, parks chairman, issued a stern directive to department heads forbidding employees to allow pictures or "undue" discussion of the statue. Alderman attacked "childish" prank and subsequent publicity.

U.S. Might Indestructible For World Security---Ike

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Eisenhower described United States military might Sunday as "an indestructible force of incalculable power."

He assured the free world that through this power—sharply criticized by the Democratic party—"all of us can stand resolute and unafraid—confident in America's might as an anchor of free world security."

Eisenhower spoke in a national radio and television broadcast on the eve of his 15,000-mile trip to four South American countries—Brazil,

Argentina, Chile and Uruguay. He appealed to Latin Americans not to believe Communist charges that the U.S. is holding Latin America in a colonial relationship.

"The U.S. wants to foster the 'triumph of human liberty' throughout the Western hemisphere; to help raise living standards among the Latins and to 'condemn all efforts to undermine the democratic institutions of the Americas through coercion or subversion'."

The president summed up his mission to South America in these words:

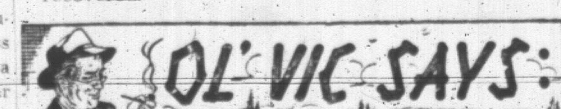

"To learn more about our friends to the south; to assure them again that the United States seeks to co-operate with them in achieving a fuller life for everyone in this hemisphere, and to make clear our desire to work closely with them in the building of a universal peace with justice."

While much of Eisenhower's speech dealt with problems of Latin America, he used the broadcast as a vehicle to defend his military policies against attack within his own country.

QUESTIONS, QUESTIONS, QUESTIONS DURING 'KIBITZERS' DAY' AT GALLERY

Do-it-yourself gleams lighted up in hundreds of eyes Saturday as more than 3,000 persons jammed the Art Gallery of Greater Victoria to watch 'artists at work.' About a third of this number—a record for one day's attendance—were children who watched and listened entranced while artists in a wide variety of media demonstrated their crafts and answered pertinent questions. The sessions occupied three hours of both afternoon and evening and attracted many who had not previously visited the gallery. In every nook and corner, scenes like these above were the order of the day. At left,

Mrs. G. Farquhar shapes a bowl on her potter's wheel, watched by an attentive audience. China painting techniques on green ware are the special skill of Lloyd Sinclair, centre, who has a devoted audience in five-year-old Frank Temple, one of last summer's art students at the gallery. A top spell-

binder among the working artists was Mungo Martin, right, Victoria's famed Indian carver of totem poles. Mr. Martin's experienced knife is here chiselling out a traditional mask under the fascinated eyes of kibitzers of all ages.—(Photos by Jorgen Svendsen.)

MONTE ROBERTS

Wayne and Schuster are not only just about everybody's favorite television comedians (including mine), they also conduct an excellent Old-Jokes-at-Home-type column which appears each Saturday in this newspaper.

Therefore, I humbly beg their pardon before suggesting that an Old Joke printed Saturday could stand a little polishing.

The old joke, they said, was good because "we like the O. Henry twist."

The joke was the one about the stockbroker who fell in love with a night club dancer, wanted to marry her, but was afraid she might not be good enough to be the mother of his children.

So he hired a private detective to investigate, and in due course received this report:

"The young lady has a wonderful reputation. She comes from an excellent family, has a great education background and her conduct has always been on the highest moral plane. Her friends have always spoken highly of her until two weeks ago. At that time she began running around with a stockbroker of questionable character."

All well and good, W. and S. But O. Henry would never have been satisfied with ONE little twist.

What O. Henry would have done is have the stockbroker pay the detective a retainer of $1,000, and agree to pay a further $1,000 fee if the report were satisfactory.

And in due course, he would have received the following report:

"The young lady has a wonderful reputation. She comes from an excellent family, has a great education background and her conduct has always been on the highest moral plane."

"Two weeks ago her rich uncle died, leaving her $4,000,000, a skiing lodge in the Laurentians, a town house in Toronto, a stable of 80 winning race horses, a yacht, and a villa on the Riviera."

"We have decided to spend part of our honeymoon on the yacht, the rest on the Riviera."

"As you must agree this is a most satisfactory report, do not forget you still owe me $1,000."

His name will go before a nominating convention at Lake Hall Women's Institute Hall, 8 p.m., March 17. A director of B.C. Federation of Agriculture and Saanich Fruit Growers' Association, and Island representative for B.C. Farmers' Institute, he was a school trustee in Saskatchewan for 25 years.

SAME FOR ALL

'Limited' God Belief Wrong Says Bishop

There is too much belief in a "limited" God due to lack of human understanding of the God-concept, Rt. Rev. Ernest Reed, Anglican bishop of Ottawa, said here today.

"Many persons believe in an English-speaking God, and fundamentally don't consider Him as the same God for the Russians or Chinese."

Most persons today believe in God, he said, but "what kind of a God" is another thing.

Therefore, theological considerations should deal with the nature of God "as the significant question."

8 P.M. DAILY

Bishop Reed is here for a week-long preaching mission at Christ Church Cathedral. He will speak at 8 p.m. daily excepting a Sunday address at 11 a.m.

A Chinese religious calendar could well portray Jesus with slant eyes, he said, "but having done this we must realize He is more international than that conception."

Anglicanism throughout the world had broadened its outlook the past 200 years from a national to an international church, he said.

"It is no longer restricted to English-speaking people."

GROWING DESIRE

The bishop said there are fewer militant atheists in the world today as there is a growing desire to find answers to ultimate questions.

Even in the scientific field, there is a mounting tendency to recognize both scientific and religious fields of thought without the disparity of the 19th century.

'GOD OF SCIENCE'

"It is recognized that God is the God of science as well as of religion."

But nowadays many people "want to be told, to seek an authority" for their religious beliefs and this is "not always good."

"We feel it better for people to think out their own religious beliefs. They should not accept teachings uncritically."

This action of acceptance is based on today's sense of insecurity, he said, "a groping for authority in a confused world of tensions."

B.C. Urges Freight Break For Lumber, Farm Produce

STEERING COMMITTEE NAMED FOR UNIFIED FAMILY COURT

Victoria, Saanich and Oak Bay will appoint a steering committee to establish a unified juvenile and family court.

A special meeting today of officials from the four municipalities and deputy attorney-general Dr. Gilbert Kennedy decided this should be the first step.

Esquimalt Reeve A. C. Wirtle said his municipality will not participate in the court but would like to share in the unified probation service and record-keeping.

View Royal will be included in the court's jurisdiction along with all unorganized territory within the Greater Victoria urban area.

Lower Rates Asked By Bonner at Hearing

British Columbia's basic commodity, lumber should be given the lowest possible transportation charges consistent with costs, Attorney-General Robert Bonner told a Royal Commission on Transportation sitting in Victoria today.

Mr. Bonner also urged that B.C.'s fruit and vegetable producers should receive "similar assistance" to that enjoyed by producers of the Atlantic provinces and now proposed for grain producers on the Prairies.

In effect, he asked that B.C. shippers should share in the benefits of any federal subsidy given to the national railways—whether the aid is given for Prairie grain shipments, unprofitable passenger trains, uneconomical branch lines, or any other losing rail operations.

(The railways have already asked for a federal subsidy to offset yearly losses on their grain traffic—a subsidy to be paid to the railways but earmarked on behalf of western farmers.)

minister, is one of the commissioners.

Mr. Bonner argued that B.C. should receive a general freight rate reduction if the railways receive federal government aid.

"If the railways are to get money from the taxpayer's pocket, he said, 'what about the shipper who has paid round

Hard-Working Thief Chops His Way Into Money at City Bottling Works

A safecracker stole exactly $534.08 in a burglary of Victoria Beverages Ltd., 2941 Bridge, sometime after Saturday afternoon.

The loss was discovered by police at 3:20 a.m. today when a front window was noticed standing open.

The exact amount of the loss was known to employees because the weekend cash had already been entered in a bank deposit book for today's banking.

THROUGH BACK

Detectives said the thief tried to go through the front of the office safe, a large, old model with combination lock, but was not successful although the dial was knocked off and hinge pins removed.

Fire Death Accidental Says Coroner

Death of Richard Frederick O'Connell, 76, found with his clothes aflame in a downtown hotel room last Wednesday night, was accidental, coroner Dr. E. C. Hart found today after an informal inquiry.

The pensioner was discovered in his Lincoln Hotel room lying against an upset electric hotplate. He was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital with second and third degree burns to the upper body. He died Friday night.

Instead, he chopped a hole in the back using tools found in the plant, making a minimum of disorder, then left by a front window after breaking a door of an inner office.

Boys Nabbed As Lake Loot Cache Found

Two Victoria juveniles face court action as a result of a number of break-ins at summer homes on Shawnigan Lake, and theft of an impressive amount of loot.

RCMP said two boys were arrested in a summer home at noon Sunday, and that a large amount of stolen goods were found. It included an outboard motor, guns, electric razor, canned food, blankets, and other items.

The two apparently had been living in a home on an island in the lake for about a week. One of them appeared in court at Shawnigan Lake today but was remanded to a later date.

Eight homes were entered. Police have names of the owners, and will be in touch with them within the next two days to have them identify the articles recovered.

CROSS-EXAMINED

Under cross-examination by Ian Sinclair, CPR lawyer, Mr. Bonner complained that, under present conditions, it is cheaper for Okanagan growers to ship produce to "a state south of Manitoba and then have it trucked up to Winnipeg than to ship direct to Winnipeg across Canada."

"There is something wrong when we have a situation of that kind," he said.

In his dual capacity of minister of industrial development, trade and commerce, Mr. Bonner addressed the six-man transport commission at its one-day hearing in the Empress Hotel.

A detailed 72-page submission on behalf of the B.C. government was then read to the commission.

SET UP IN MAY

The commission was set up last May to investigate problems of Canada's railways and the impact of freight rates on various regions from coast to coast.

Under the chairmanship of Regina lawyer M. A. MacPherson, it has already sat in Quebec City, Montreal, Winnipeg, Regina and Edmonton, and will hold a further hearing in Vancouver Tuesday.

LEGISLATURE SPEAKERS

First speaker in the legislature Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock will be Agriculture Minister Newton P. Steacy. Listed to follow him are Mrs. Lois Haggan (CCF, Grand Forks-Greenwood), W. C. Speare (SC, Cariboo), A. S. Matthew (SC, Vancouver Centre), and R. O. Newton (SC, Columbia).

WARMEST CITY

Blue Skies Bless Day Of Rejoicing

Brilliant sunshine and the warmest weather of the year heightened Victoria's "day of rejoicing" Sunday for the new royal prince.

The day was proclaimed by provincial cabinet and the order signed by Lieut.-Gov. Frank Ross, Attorney-General Robert Bonner and Provincial Secretary Wesley Black.

All city churches marked the occasion for the youngest member of the royal family.

PRAYERS

In Anglican churches special prayers issued by the Archbishop of Canterbury were read at morning and evening services. They gave thanks for the birth of the prince, for Queen Elizabeth, and for the royal family, which now numbers five.

Other congregations, both Roman Catholic and Protestant, prayed for the infant prince in company with others throughout the province.

The balmy day followed a windstorm which reached 68 miles per hour in gusts at 8:45 p.m. Saturday, and 62 miles after midnight. Winds then fell off gradually, until by daylight the sky was clear and the wind light.

WARMEST CITY

Minimum temperature for the day was 38 degrees and the maximum was 50 degrees, making Victoria Canada's warmest city on Sunday. Oddly enough, the summary for Feb. 21, 1959, was identical—minimum 32, maximum 50, and no rain.

Good weather will continue, according to weatherman William Mackie.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

A small flying object which defied identification was seen at 5:10 p.m. Sunday by Mrs. G. Kintoff, 1746 Fort, and her two children as they drove toward Victoria on the Trans-Canada Highway near the Thetis Lake road.

"It glowed like an electric light when it reflected the sun," she said, "and from another angle it appeared rust-colored. It was moving quickly from out right to left, and was too small and too close to be an aircraft."

Richard McKenney, 49, of 658 Niagara, was taken to Jubilee Hospital with chest injury when he fell about 10 feet from a porch at 915 McClure at 10:25 a.m. today.

Police said McKenney was carrying a folding bed from the house at that address when a porch rail gave way against his weight, tumbling him to the ground.

The juvenile detention home directors today submitted a $12,847 budget for 1960 municipal estimates. The proposed total would be split: $8,093 for Victoria; $2,569 for Saanich; $1,284 for Oak Bay; and $899 for Esquimalt.

Persons wishing to help in connection with Colquitz Junior High PTA "family night jamboree" March 25 are asked to meet at the school Wednesday at 7 p.m.

Further information can be obtained by phoning Mrs. Ada Bone at EV 5-5598.

A pair of 17-year-old Victoria boys were put in Cold Harbor Detention Home and charged with joyriding and criminally negligent driving after a five-mile chase by police at speeds up to 85 miles an hour early Sunday.

Police said a car owned by A. G. Holmes, 2141 Crescent, was taken from a Pembroke Street address and was spotted being driven north in the 2100 block Foul Bay at about 2 a.m.

Oak Bay police, assisted by Saanich and city police cars, chased the auto around city, Oak Bay and Saanich streets to where it finally went into a ditch at Cedar Hill and Cedar Glen, near Mount Douglas.

An alleged attempt to burn his house was reported by E. J. Bonfoy, 3119 Cedar Hill, to police Saturday afternoon.

The home owner reported that someone lit a paper that was pushed between porch railings which were blackened slightly.

A 16-year-old babysitter accused by two youths wearing silk stockings over their faces fought off her attackers when they tried to snatch her purse at Begbie and Pandora at midnight Saturday.

The girl told police at 12:30 a.m. Sunday both young men ran off when she resisted their assault.

She said she was walking to her home on Fernwood when the attack took place.

The Orient and Pacific liner Iberia, properly dressed with all flags flying as a salute to Victoria, picked up her pilot at Brocton Ledge at noon today for her trip to Vancouver.

Skipper of the 30,000-ton ship is Capt. Hooper P. Mallet, who has been named commodore of the vast O and P fleet.

View of the vessel was obscured slightly by a light haze over Juan de Fuca Strait.

Commodore John Dean, commodore superintendent, RCN, Pacific Coast, welcomed the new merchant commodore to Canadian waters, and sailed to Vancouver in the ship as honored guest.

Dale Tennant, 19, of Brentwood, one of five men hurt in a two-car crash in Esquimalt Friday, is still in "poor" condition with head and chest injuries at St. Joseph's Hospital today.

His companion, William Shanks, 16, of Sidney, previously reported in critical condition now is listed by the hospital as "fair."

Two others believed occupants of Shanks' car—which police do not know who was driving—and the driver of the second car had less serious injuries.

A building permit authorizing construction of a $94,740 headquarters for the St. John Ambulance Association was issued at City Hall today.

$300 DONATED TO HELP SAANICH PIONEER

Skilled Labor Offered Fire Fund

Members of the building trades have volunteered to help rebuild a three-room cabin for an 82-year-old Saanich pioneer whose home was destroyed by fire.

Ed Lohbrunner, president of the Thetis Park Nature Association, said today.

Carpenters, plumbers, bricklayers and bulldozer men have come forward to help the elderly man, he said.

The association has Park. He wants the land incorporated with the park.

"This man deserves all the assistance we can give him," said Mr. Lohbrunner. "He has never accepted charity and offered his valuable property as a park to the government before the fire destroyed his home."

Donations should be sent to Miss M. Meiburn, 2397 Heron Street.

—O.A.

A. It was Friday.

Q. Could you please tell me where one could write to apply for a job as a stenographer or secretary for the Canadian Government in a foreign country?—L. C.

A. About once weekly, usually on weekends, a long list of jobs open in the federal civil service are listed in the newspapers. Often there are clerical jobs with specific overseas postings mentioned. You may also write the Civil Service Commission, Ottawa, Ont., for information.

IN HIDING TO SAVE MARRIAGE

Brigitte Goes Under Cover

PARIS (Reuters) — Six weeks after the birth of their first child, movie star Brigitte Bardot and actor-husband Jacques Charrier hid somewhere in the Alps today while the French press speculated on an early separation.

Rumors of a possible break-up of the year-old marriage began last week when the weekly France-Dimanche declared the couple was at the winter resort of Chamonix "not for a second honeymoon, but to try to save their threatened happiness."

Jacques, 23, released from army service on medical grounds last year a month before their son Nicholas' birth, was said to have attempted to persuade his blonde, 25-year-old wife to give up her spectacular career. She refused.

TOO TORRID

French newspapers say Jacques was "furious" at torrid kisses which Brigitte recently

exchanged with young actors competing for a coveted role opposite her in her next film, La Verite (Truth).

One of the "possibles" is her former fiancé Jean-Louis Trintignant, who was with Brigitte in "El Dieu Crea la Femme" (And God Created Woman).

Photographs of the young couple taken at Chamonix showed them tense and unsmiling — although some reports said this might have been because Italian photographers had let down the tires of their sports car to give cameramen more time to take pictures.

Newspapers say Brigitte and Jacques had gone to Chamonix to "reflect" but they have had a quarrel—and in any case Brigitte did not like the snow. After the fire incident they left Chamonix. They were reported to have found a new refuge in the mountains nearby, away from reporters and photographers.

TORONTO (CP)—An Englishman, an American and a Scot got together Sunday and declared Canada has little to fear from heavy United States investment.

The men were members of a panel which wound up the sixth annual Couchiching winter conference in Toronto. Theme of the conference: Is business reshaping society?

Scottish-born Monteath Douglas, Canadian director of the National Industrial Conference Board, said suspicion of the United States is one of the things that holds Canada together.

"The other thing is hatred of Toronto," said English-born T. W. Kent, former editor of the Winnipeg Free Press and now assistant to the president of Montreal Chemical Limited. Mr. Douglas thought hatred too strong a word. "It is envy," he said.

FREE SUBSIDIARIES

Mr. Kent said most U.S. parent firms did not attempt to run their Canadian subsidiaries.

Mr. Douglas agreed. The biggest subsidiaries often turn around and tell their parent companies what to do with respect to Canadian decisions, he said.

Finally, Adolf Berle, Jr., professor of corporate law at New York's Columbia University, said Canadians often forget 25 per cent of all U.S. export trade comes to Canada.

This represents a substantial U.S. dependence on Canada.

"Each of us has found ourselves intervening in each other's affairs and there's no way out of it."

Turning to state-planned economy, the panel agreed government activity in business affairs is bound to increase although many businessmen think it's a dangerous trend.

Mr. Berle said business and the profit system are means towards the achievement of an ideal society and business has never done anything to attain this society except when forced.

Eisenhower argued that U.S. military strength is not dependent on any one weapon or service and is not subject to elimination by sudden attack.

And he observed that this strength is "buttressed by an industrial system unmatched on earth and unhesitatingly supported by a vigorous people determined to remain free."

"Strategically, it is far better situated than any force that could be brought to bear against us."

Colonel Spencer Dies on Holiday

VANCOUVER (CP)—Col. Victor Spencer, 77, son of a pioneer merchandising family and prominent cattle and businessman, died Sunday while holidaying in United States.

He died in his sleep at a Pasadena, Calif., hotel. His daughter, Barbara, and Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross of British Columbia, a long and intimate companion, were with him at his death.

Col. Spencer and his daughter travelled to Pasadena one week ago and were joined Saturday by Mr. Ross.

Born in Victoria in 1882, Col. Spencer was the fifth son of Mr. and Mrs. David Spencer, pioneer merchants. He spent his boyhood there, but before he was 18 enlisted as a trooper with a Canadian army contingent recruited for the Boer War in South Africa.

He returned to take advantage of an ex-servicemen's landskip, designed to open up B.C.'s rangeland, and got his first experience in cattle ranching.

FULL-TIME

In years prior to the First World War he was also on the full-time staff of the family's David Spencer Limited stores and worked his way to executive positions.

During the First World War he fought in major campaigns in Europe and rose to rank of lieutenant-colonel. On his return to this country his staff began calling him "colonel" and the honorary title stayed with him.

Col. Spencer purchased the first of a string of ranches about 40 years ago, when he bought the Earls Court Ranch, a purebred Hereford farm near Lytton, B.C.

Other ranches he acquired over the years were the Pavilion Ranch, the Bryson ranch in Pavilion Valley and Circle S at Dog Creek—all in the Kamloops-Central B.C. area.

With Lt. Governor Ross, he owned also the British Commonwealth's largest cattle ranch, the 650,000-acre Douglas Lake ranch. It was sold last year to Charles Woodward, president of Woodward Stores Limited in Vancouver.

He was an ardent supporter of amateur sport and purchased the rowing shell used by a University of British Columbia crew to win 1956 Olympic honors. English rugger and racing were other favorite sports.

Col. Spencer had tremendous pride in his home province and persistently encouraged its development by investing in its enterprises, many of which his business sense told him were sound. But many others succeeded.
